French Deputies Are Aroused By War Debt Talk

Overwhelming Sentiment In Chamber Of Deputies Against Paying

DEPUTY MARIN MAKES SPEECH

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Overwhelming sentiment against payment of the war debt due to the United States was manifested in the French chamber of deputies today.

While no vote was cast, the deputies seized an opportunity to register their approval of the tactics of Deputy Louis Marin, nationalist leader, who is leading the fight against payment.

The opportunity came when Louis Marin, chairman of the finance committee asked the chamber to vote a credit of 1,500,000,000 francs to the supplementary budget for the purpose of compensating the loss of German reparations.

Situation Tense
Marin jumped up and demanded that the chamber first vote on its attitude toward the December 15 war debt payment. Marin explained that he had already tabled a proposition refusing payment.

"I don't want France eventually to be faced with a fait accompli by voting a credit for Germany's failure to pay reparations, which is directly due to the Hoover moratorium," Marin said.

General approbation greeted Marin's speech and several deputies addressed the chamber in support of his views. Finally Joseph Paganon, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, intervened speaking on behalf of the government, he promised that the war debt question would be placed before the chamber before December 15.

Alleged Bartering Of Scholarships Will Be Investigated In State

Allege Effort At Racketeering In Scholarship Has Been Attempted

Denials Come From Heads Of State Institutions Concerned In Reports

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—The address of former offices of William S. Vare, Philadelphia Republican leader, was used to lend credulity to the "racketeering" of scholarships to Pennsylvania state supported colleges, it was charged today as the state-wide investigation of reputed bartering waxed hotter.

State Senator Samuel W. Salus of Philadelphia, who made the charge, said further that a personal investigation he had made also disclosed that Vare's official stationery had been used at one time by an employee seeking scholarship from state senators.

Two Year Probe
The employee was peremptorily dismissed when Vare learned of the affair, Salus said. Later according to Salus, he obtained a job in Auditor General Waters' office and again was fired when the scholarship racketeering rumor cropped up there.

A thorough and complete probe of reputed racket was promised by Senator Salus. Although he said he had been working quietly for two years, he expressed approval today of the publicity given the alleged bartering. He said:

"It's a good thing the matter is being given publicity. It will deter others from trying the same thing."

Arrest Is Made
Disclosure of the reputed "scholarship racketeering" first came to light here with the arrest of Henry S. Fitch, who was charged with passing worthless checks on the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University. At a hearing for Fitch it was charged he peddled scholarships to the two state-aid institutions.

His arrest was reported to have resulted when he failed to produce scholarships he had sold and attempted to pay tuition of his prospects with worthless checks.

Several Philadelphia boys were revealed as having been defrauded of various sums of money in the racket as allegedly practiced by Fitch.

Need Aid Of Republican "Wets" To Get Sanction Of Repeal Move

GARNER SEEKS VOTE ON OPENING DAY

Outcome Of Effort To Start Repeal Program Is Much In Doubt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Republican wets in the house will be summoned into special session to consider the proposal of Speaker John N. Garner for passage of a prohibition repeal resolution on the opening day of congress.

Rep. James M. Beck (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican "wet bloc," announced today he would support the outright repeal resolution framed by Garner after conferences with Democratic leaders. The "wet bloc" session may be held this week, Beck said.

Strong Republican wets will make an appeal to the 95 "wet bloc" members to go down the line for submission of prohibition repeal to the states despite the fact that the Garner resolution differs from the Republican platform.

Passage of the resolution, which must command two-thirds of the house, was in doubt, with predictions being made both ways by leaders in the fight.

May Defeat Bill
A canvass of the declarations of the "Lame Duck" members indicated passage is unlikely unless the Republican members now supporting the Hoover plan throw their full strength behind the movement.

"I have seen the resolution of the speaker for outright repeal and I favor it," said Beck. "It differs somewhat from the Beck-Linthicum (Continued On Page Two)

Attitude Shifts; British May Pay Debt In December

Prime Minister MacDonald Appears To Have Won Important Victory

STILL BELIEVE U. S. MAY SOFTEN

Position Taken That Great Britain Must Not Be Classed As Defaulter

By HARRY REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Chances for payment by Britain of the December war debt instalment to the United States brightened today.

Government officials declared it appeared Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, with the aid of Stanley Baldwin, had finally triumphed over the treasury contention that payment of the instalment would be more disastrous to the Nation than default.

Note Lacks Approval
The new British note to the United States, further expanding previous pleas for suspension of the payment, still remained incomplete and lacking approval of the full cabinet, however.

Cabinet approval of the note appeared imminent following reports MacDonald's view had met with considerable support within the cabinet during the past two days. Added to this was important financial opinion in support of the prime minister's conviction that, whatever happens, Britain must never default.

Must Not Default
The MacDonald faction claims to have overwhelming support in the House of Commons, while the attitude of the public at large is said to favor payment at any cost in the event the United States insists.

The general feeling is that Great Britain cannot afford to be held up in the eyes of the world as a defaulter.

At the same time, both officials (Continued On Page Two)

Britain Planning New Debt Relief Plea To America

Washington Expects New Appeal To Be Forwarded On Wednesday

LITTLE CHANCE OF CHANGE BY U. S.

Congress Would Have To Sanction Any Leniency On Debt Payments

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Further moves on the war-debt chessboard awaited today the receipt of a new British note which London dispatches indicated would be sent to Washington tomorrow.

Until that is received and studied nothing will be initiated here to grant the relief insisted upon by the debtor nations in their notes of last week. The American reply to those communications was that they presented nothing to warrant the United States postponing the Dec. 15 payments, amounting in all to some $125,000,000.

Expect Gloomy Picture.
It is expected the new British note will present a gloomy picture of Britain's present financial situation, coupled with a strong argument that world-wide economic recovery will be hastened by readjustment of the whole of the war debts. Readjustment, of course, means sharp scaling downward, or outright cancellation.

Of that, there is no possibility, in either the present or the succeeding congress.

If, however, the British make out a sufficiently strong case as affecting solely themselves, President Hoover may be persuaded to recommend to Congress some measure of temporary relief for Britain alone. Some support could be found for that in Congress. But as affecting the other principal debtors, notably France, there is no disposition either in or out of Congress for re- (Continued On Page Two)

Herriot Will Stake Cabinet On Debt Issue

Premier Herriot Of France Will Ask For War Debt Vote Of Confidence

PLANS ACTION IN FACE OF DEFEAT

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 29.—Premier Edouard Herriot of France today decided to stake the fate of his cabinet on the war debt issue.

The premier's decision was made in the face of apparently unanimous opposition in the chamber of deputies to payment of the debt instalment due the United States on December 15.

Herriot, it was announced by Paul Marchandeau, under-secretary of state, will go before the chamber on Thursday and ask for a vote of confidence, demanding a free hand to carry out the present war debt negotiations.

Herriot will ask the chamber to give him the confidence vote in place of voting on the proposal offered by Louis Marin, right Nationalist leader, which if passed would be tantamount to a warning that the chamber would refuse to ratify the payment.

You can dig out from the cupboard all those last year's resolutions, you can polish up the things you said you'd do, for they're hardly had much mileage since the brand new year began, fact is they are just as good as new. Now you promised you'd quit smoking and quit drinking and the like and you kept them for a day or maybe more, and right soon they went to pieces and were put back in the box, just like resolutions that you made of yore. So dig out those resolutions it will soon be time again for you to have your annual New Year's say when you hold your hand and pledge things that you'll do or will not do, weather's brighter, up to forty eight today.

SPECIAL CONGRESS SESSION MAY BE AVOIDED

Democrats Plan For Action In Short Session

Democrats Will Fight For Dry Repeal, Farm Relief And Lower Expenditures

ROOSEVELT AND ROBINSON CONFER

By RAYMOND I. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 29.—With the approval of President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democrats will battle at the "Lame Duck" session of Congress for modification of the Volstead law, enactment of farm relief measures and drastic reductions in federal government expenditures.

If these three major proposals are enacted at the short session, Governor Roosevelt, it was revealed today, is convinced he will escape the necessity of calling a special session immediately after his inauguration next March.

Appointments Delayed
Following a two-hour conference with Mr. Roosevelt, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic senate chief, said the senate would withhold confirmation of pending or new executive appointments with possibly a few exceptions.

"Indications are," said Senator Robinson, "that executive nominations coming into the senate during the short session will be carried over until after the new administration is inaugurated. It may be necessary to make exceptions, but no effort is being made now to decide what exceptions, if any, should be made."

Under the plans mapped by the Democrats, all judicial appointments as well as postmasterships will be held over until Mr. Roosevelt takes over the reins.

Senator Robinson said the appointment of Roy D. Chapin as secretary of commerce would be confirmed. He also expects Representative Charles Crisp of Georgia will be confirmed as a member of the tariff commission.

BRITAIN PLANS NEW DEBT RELIEF PLEA TO AMERICA

vising the existing agreements in any direction except upward.

Congress Must Act
Without congressional sanction no relief can be extended Britain more than postponement of $30,000,000 of the $85,000,000 she is due to pay on December 15. The law provides that in exceptional cases the secretary of the treasury shall have discretionary authority to waive the 90-day notice affecting suspension of payments on principal. But even this would still leave Britain to pay $55,000,000 next month, and if her financial plight is as bad as painted, such a solution would fall far short of the relief the British insist they must have.

Secretary of the Treasury Mills, who conferred yesterday with Sir Ronald Lindsay, said the British ambassador had not proposed this course, nor had he (Mills) given it any consideration.

Debtors Can Pay
Of the debtors' capacity to meet their December installments there exists no doubt whatever in Washington. The American ambassadors to every major debtor nation have reported to Washington within the past month that the debtors can pay on December 15.

The shoe may pinch a little in Britain, but not elsewhere. France, for example, who has always led the cancellation drive, is called upon to pay only $19,000,000 on December 15. She possesses approximately one-fourth of the world's gold supply.

That the attitude of the new incoming Democratic Congress on the question of the debts will be substantially that of the present dying Congress was made plain last night by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who is slated to head the powerful finance committee in the next administration.

Citing the degree of cancellation already granted, and the persistent agitation for still further reduction, he said:

"These arguments are always silent on the burden of these modification proposals on our own people. Germany is to go free and pass her burden to the allies. They delay not at all in trying to pass the burden to our government, and our government necessarily passed them on to the American citizen—and that is the end of the passing. He has no place to pass except to the sweat of his brow."

"There is much talk of 'capacity to pay,' but what is meant is 'capacity to pay the United States. They do not seem to question their capacity to pay other creditors. For example, Great Britain owes us a little over $40,000,000, but her total debt is $85,000,000."

"Why should all the relief come from the United States?"

And France, he pointed out, who settled her debt at 39 cents on the dollar, is now again talking of 'capacity to pay' when she has more than a quarter of all the gold in the world in her vaults."

At the request of the Chamber of Commerce, which body is sponsoring the demand that the state police be re-established here, Bart Richards called Governor Pinchot and asked for a conference for the New Castle men. Governor Pinchot suggested that the matter might be adjusted without the necessity of going to Harrisburg and instructed Major Adams to have Captain Oftedahl of the Butler Barracks come to New Castle and thus save the time and expense of a trip.

The urgency of the need for state police will be laid before Captain Oftedahl in an emphatic manner this afternoon. Crime has become rampant in Lawrence county, farms are being raided, murders are being committed, and the condition has reached such a point that protection of the type afforded by the state police is needed, it is asserted.

From the tone of the telegram received by Richards from the governor's office, Captain Oftedahl has been given the authority to act in the matter and the officials and the business men present at the conference this afternoon intend to leave nothing undone to re-establish a sub-station of state police in New Castle.

Hope To Break Slayer's Story Of Suicide Pact

State Police At Doylestown, Pa., On Secret Mission Concerning Case

YOUNG GIRL IS SHOT TO DEATH

(International News Service)
DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—Frank admission that police hoped to prove false the "love-pact" confession of Charles Arwine, charged with the slaying of pretty Frances Rempler, 15-year-old high school girl, came today from officers of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Arwine still clings to his claim that he first shot the girl who, he says, willingly entered the suicide pact, and then failed to commit suicide when he was unnerved by sight of the girl's body.

Corporal John Wommer of the state police said that Arwine's story would be disproved before nightfall. County detectives and several troopers left on a mystery mission this morning. Police were silent on their destination but it was believed to be concerned with attempts to break down Arwine's confession.

Spends Time Reading.
Arwine, who said he shot the girl through the heart as she lifted her lips to his, spends most of his time reading in "Murderer's Row" of Bucks county prison. He tossed away a love story magazine that was offered him today, with this declaration:

"I've had enough of that love stuff."

Instead, he read with interest a book on scientific achievements.

Arwine, a twice-married mill-hand, is estranged from his second wife.

SEN. WEINGARTNER AMAZED AT CHARGES ABOUT SCHOLARSHIPS

oftentimes a convenience to students if such charges can be arranged.

"Any person who would profit from the granting of a senatorial scholarship to a college is violating his trust. From the stories originating in Philadelphia it seems that there has been a racket played by some ward politicians in the East and that the sale of the scholarships has not been done directly or indirectly by any Senator. However, a thorough investigation should be made in order that the members of the Senate should be cleared of any suspicion, and the guilt placed where it belongs."

ATTITUDE SHIFTS; BRITISH MAY PAY DEBT IN DECEMBER
and private citizens are still confident that the United States will renege in the end. Despite outspoken warnings from American authorities, officials remain convinced Britain's new note will bring about suspension of the payment.

Not Unanimous
LONDON, Nov. 29.—The new British note to Washington asking postponement of the December war debt payments may be sent to the United States without the approval of the full British cabinet.

This was the view expressed by Whitehall officials today following a meeting between Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald and leading members of the cabinet around a breakfast table in the prime minister's residence.

Present at the meeting were Neville Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, Stanley Baldwin and Walter Runcie.

The Gamewell police alarm system being installed in the local police department will be ready for use in the course of the next few weeks. The equipment used in the office of the police sergeant has been set up and is practically ready for use. The system remains, however, the necessity of stringing the wire used in the operation of the system. There are several miles of this wire to be strung and it will take some little time to put it up.

Will Give Lectures On Lord Byron At Night School Here
Because of the interest displayed in the class in English Poetry, now being conducted as a part of the Unemployed Night Schools, John Rubels, the instructor plans to open a series of three lectures tonight on Lord Byron, one of the most theatrical men of letters in English literature.

The series will be conducted in three nights, each Tuesday evening in the North Street school being set aside for this purpose. While the classes are confined to the unemployed, in this instance the public is permitted to attend the three lectures. Each lecture will last from seven thirty until eight thirty.

TRUCK HAULS WORKERS.
Lawrence county today contributed the second portion of its weekly quota of 75 jobless men to the Pymatuning Dam emergency work camps. The party of 25 was transported by truck, provided by the county. Tomorrow, the final group of 25 will leave.

Joseph Samuels, Emery street, has been suffering the past week with an abscess on his foot and his condition today is not as good as could be wished for.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine. Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of New York Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Junior P. H. C. Meeting
The Junior P. H. C. members will meet Wednesday evening in regular session at 7 o'clock in Malta Hall.

Rebekah Chapter

Mrs. B. M. Rogers, 719 Carlisle street, will entertain the members of the Rebekah chapter of the First United Presbyterian church in her home Friday evening at 7:45 for the regular monthly session. Her associate hostesses will be Mrs. Glenn Carpenter, Mrs. Harry Dinsmore and Mrs. Carl Hoch.

Mrs. Leroy Allhouse will be the devotional leader and the mission study book "The Rainbow Empire" will be taken up, with Mrs. H. D. Hanna in charge, aided by Mrs. J. C. Gillilan and Mrs. B. M. Rogers.

First United Presbyterian

Wednesday evening the John P. Lockhart class of the First United Presbyterian church will have charge of the prayer service in the church at 7:45.

The church has set aside the last Wednesday of each month for the organizations of the church to take charge of the special missionary prayer services.

Maxwell Circle

Miss Mary Shaffer, Meyer avenue, was hostess to the members of the Maxwell Circle of the Epworth Methodist church Monday evening in her home, with a tureen dinner featuring the gathering.

Covers were arranged for twenty-five, with early winter flowers used in table decoration, and a delicious menu was served.

Mrs. Hazel Armstrong presided at a brief session after dinner and plans were made for taking up a mission study book at the next meeting.

December 27 will mark the date of the Christmas party.

Section F To Meet

Members of Section F of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. James Wright, 912 Torrance avenue at 7:45.

TOO MUCH RIDING FOR EXERCISE

MANY will be inclined to agree with Dr. Joseph Raycroft, who is director of physical education at Princeton, that the almost universal use of the automobile is having deleterious effects upon the human leg. Re reports that the University infirmary treated 109 fractures and 348 sprains last year—"a big increase." And he goes on to ascribe this to "a reduction in the amount of leg action during the adolescent period and failure to develop tough joint structures." Such a theory is at least tenable. Has not walking become well nigh a lost art?

Youth needs plenty of exercise, and intermittent sports do not supply it regularly. It was once thought nothing to walk a mile or two to school; now there are buses to take children only a short distance. In some colleges automobiles have been forbidden to undergraduates for other than physical reasons. Even so, indulgent fathers provide them with cars to use outside of college, and the young man who does not have one feels humiliated in the eyes of his fellows. There is, of course, no reason why he should not drive on occasion. But it is a pity to make a car a mere excuse for laziness.

In spite of the eccentricities of our weather, there are plenty of days when a good long walk in the country should be esteemed a pleasure. The more leisurely method of progress offers the opportunity for real appreciation of the charms of nature. There is mental as well as physical advantage in this. Let not the coming generation be practically legless.

PERILS OF THE WILDWOOD

We suppose there is really nothing to be done about the annual slaughter of amateur huntsmen, which is now in full swing, but it is a matter for grief consideration nevertheless.

The casualty lists are now coming in. Each day's paper recites the details of the passing of numerous nimrods, who became entangled with their guns, intercepted stray shots from the weapons of others or otherwise managed to obtain transportation from this vale of tears.

It is noticeable that several of the deaths thus far reported resulted from exposure. Down in Texas two have died from this cause and three others have been found unconscious in the marshes.

It is quite natural that there should be a lot of deaths and accidents among the huntsmen. To take a man from behind a counter or a desk, who perhaps has no knowledge of guns other than he may have derived from occasional exercises in a shooting gallery, and turn him loose in the woods to shoot at anything he may fancy to be a deer is inviting catastrophe.

Equally, to permit men who live softly for eleven and a half months every year, who have no training in woodcraft, and no knowledge of how to care for themselves after they leave concrete pavements, means that a lot of them will get into trouble and not a few will either die of exposure or contract illness.

However, the lure of the wild is strong, as it was in the days of our pioneer fathers. We succumb to it as they did. The difference is that they knew what to do in the wild when they got there. Most modern city sportsmen don't know, and far too many of them are killed off before they have a chance to learn.

BANK BANDITS GET SPEEDY SENTENCE

The court of quarter sessions of Forest county has sentenced the three Marienville bank robbers to not less than 15 nor more than 30 years in the penitentiary. This is a sentence worth while and ought to, and we believe, will, have a good effect on prospective bank robbers and thieves and robbers generally.

With time out for good behavior and penitentiary conditions being constantly improved at the insistence of prison reform associations and considering the rather distressing conditions in the world at large, this is not a severe sentence but in contrast to many of the sentences given criminals, it is one that will attract attention.

Any kind of robbery is reprehensible but there are no extenuating circumstances in this case, no one suffering for food or anything of that sort. It was a most deliberate robbery and involved depriving four people of their liberty for hours. Such crimes of deliberation deserve adequate punishment and the Forest county judge has set a good example.

CONTEST FOR A NATIONAL TREE

One election is scarcely over before we are plunged into another. But the latest contest will hardly be as exciting and nerve-racking as the one just ended. It is for the mild, not to say poetic, purpose of agreeing upon a national tree. It is to be conducted under the auspices of the National Life Conservation Society, a woman's organization with headquarters in New York City. A member of the staff of the Botanical Garden is to prepare a short list of the most "eligible" trees, setting forth their qualifications; but neither this gentleman nor Mrs. Charles Cyrus Marshall, originator of the society, will take a stand in favor of any particular "candidate." It is suggested, however, that the maple be not chosen, since the maple leaf already is the emblem of Canada.

A meeting is to be held in New York City in April, at which time the merits of the various candidates will be debated. The polls will close at the end of 1933, and after that a bill will be introduced in Congress to "legalize the choice of the voters." The campaign, we are told, is to be aimed particularly at schools and organizations, and is intended to be educational in its purpose. The average citizen may be pardoned if he indulges in a broad grin over the announcement of the contest; but, after all, it is not likely to do anyone any harm, and it may be worth the effort if it proves to be the means of interesting the people in the wonders of nature. It is a way of attracting attention to conservation work, and if it makes the people tree-conscious, it will be doing something for the country.

Young folks living in the country may be familiar with trees, but it is doubtful if the ordinary city dweller could identify and name half a dozen kinds. The late Joyce Kilmer with his famous poem probably did more to popularize trees in this country than any other man. Those who take up the subject as a hobby are likely to get a great deal of pleasure out of it.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

OLD CHARLIE

I think of old Charlie, who is in his grave now and beyond the reach of all pity, all tragedy, all misfortune. And as I think of Charlie, a cloud of pity takes shape around me, and I wonder what his life would have been and I wonder whether that life of his was as much wasteland as it always seemed to me.

A great tree of a man was Charlie. Tall and lean with enormous shoulders. A shock of white hair and a face like an eagle's. He said little, but when he spoke you listened. "A man of character," you'd say the instant you saw him.

But Charlie spent nearly half of his long life in prisons. For violent crimes. Not for any petty playboyish triflings with the law, but for bold and desperate raids on society.

He was one of Quantrell's raiders in the Civil war. And with those raiders he learned, as part of war's activities, to ride a horse, to shoot straight, to burn and steal. After the war, he went home and found the family farm deserted and ruined, and with bitterness in his heart he saddled his horse and rode out west to California.

Here he became a stage robber. I don't know how it happened, but he did. He robbed and perhaps he killed and he was caught and put into prison. And he escaped. Hiding in the woods he and his companion became deathly sick, and the other suggested that they give themselves up. But Charlie said no, they'd "die in the brush" before they surrendered. And they nearly did.

They got away and Charlie became a respectable citizen in a little town. But they caught him again and this time he stayed in his prison for nearly 30 years, until he was an old man.

He got a job and worked hard and honestly and saved a chunk of money and at last, when he was more than 80 years old, he "retired" and lived on a pension he had earned and on his savings.

You'd never have known, talking to Charlie, that he'd been a stage robber and a fugitive and a man who'd been locked in prison for half his long life. And if you knew his story, you never met him that you did not wonder what his life would have been if he hadn't taken that one wrong turn so many years before.

He scorned your pity wordlessly; but in his own heart I think he must have stood aside at times and pitied his own life, as if it had been another's. Pity it for a flashing instant, and then rebuked his own weakness and straightened his shoulders and wiped the soft emotion away.

He's dead now and in his grave, and when I think of Charlie I understand why so many people on this earth believe in reincarnation, in a second chance. But not for old Charlie. Speak of that to him and he would say: "I had one chance and that's yours for any man. Don't miss yours!"

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM
It is a good thing to have a few truth-telling, honest friends.

The sort of friends who will risk losing your friendship in order to tell you what they know you should be told.

The kind of friends who will not gloss things over when you need censure and excuse deficiencies for the sake of congenial companionship.

Too often good friends are too forgiving and overlook faults which they should seek to check by such force as is required.

If our friends would frankly mention our disagreeable mannerisms, our penchant for talking too much and too frivolously, our carelessness in speech and actions, they might be of real and lasting benefit to us.

Most of us do not have an opportunity to "see ourselves as others see us" unless we provoke someone to anger—then we usually get hold of some real facts.

Too often, however, when we receive criticism that angers from one who has been angered, there is a tendency to magnify and perhaps we don't deserve all that is given.

Therefore the good criticism loses its point and is not appreciated.

If friends would mention our faults in a dispassionate way and we had sense enough to take criticism constructively, it might be very helpful.

Butler Arouses Discussion Of Republican Party Feature

Belief In Continuance Of Two-Party Rivalry Is Widely Held, As Public Reviews Fortunes Of Existing Organizations In Political History

Present, past and future of political parties in the United States are passed in review by the public, in response to the statement of President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, who has offered a prescription for the restoration of the Republican party.

Dr. Butler's belief that the Republican party "must be liberal or die" is attacked by the NEW YORK SUN (Ind.) with the statement: "If it dies, he says, a liberal party will succeed it. According to his definition, a party to be liberal should balance the budget, repel special privileges and every form of private and group interest, consider the general welfare, lower the tariff, readjust war debts, act in international concert and reform the monetary system. Such are not the ideals of the liberal party which already exist, with its head in the Democratic tent and its tail in the Republican. This liberalism—and it gets votes—desires that either or not the budget is balanced so long as pork pours into the barrel, bonuses are paid, paternalism is growing and the policy of soak-the-rich prevails. * * *

"The same idea was quite prevalent in 1912," says the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION (Rep.), "in the famous rivalry of the Elephant and the Bull Moose. Dr. Butler is simply using the ideas of Cassandras of other days. The Republican party has not only survived but has come back more strongly. That also has been the case at intervals with the Democratic party after most severe drubbings in national elections. Dr. Butler contends that unless the Republican party can be given new strength and spirit it will go the way of the Whig party and pass out of existence. But there is nothing in the present situation comparable to the political force of a single definite issue like that of slavery and impending secession in disrupting existing parties. In the brief period from Jackson to Lincoln the party system was in a formative stage around one tremendous issue of national unity. Since then the two-party system has been stabilized as a method for the alternation of responsibility in government. Third

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

PASSPORT TROUBLES

Prior to 1914, the American citizens knew very little about passports. He came and went from his own country as he willed and his word was his bond that he was an American citizen. The necessity of the passport came with the great war and it is amazing what curious things can happen concerning the passport.

During the war an American engineering firm was developing a great mine in Mexico and it became necessary to have someone bring them from the State a set of blue prints. The messenger arrived at the border, had his passport, and expected to take the train the next morning at nine o'clock for Mexico City. The night before a new order had been issued by both the United States and Mexican governments that no one should be permitted to cross the border without giving the proper officials notice fifteen days before he left, that he was going.

The messenger's business was urgent. The American engineer in Mexico City made arrangements with the Mexican authorities to expedite the crossing. The Mexican Consul on the American side of the Rio Grande was instructed to vize the passport by telegraphic authority. Armed with this, the messenger, with his package, started to cross the bridge and passed the American Guard all right, of course, with his vized passport, but the Mexican Guard demurred.

He would not pass the American without seeing the telegram. It was within an hour of train time, but the American started back to find the Consul and get the telegram. The American Guard on his end of the bridge refused to let him pass. And so the messenger was marooned on the bridge, seemingly. He probably would be there now if it had not been for some American official who happened along just then and escorted the messenger to the Mexican Consul's house, where the telegram was procured.

Bible Thought For Today

THE WAY TO PEACE:— Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee.—Job 22:21.

Weekly Health Talk

"The other day a very intelligent lady whose temporal wealth has sadly shrunk, rather forlornly remarked that she had dropped from cake to bread. And, perhaps, to some extent at least, her statement was true. However, the point is that she is quite as well nourished, and if anything looks healthier than when she was feasting at the table of luxury. There may be a moral to this story," states Doctor Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

"As a matter of fact, however, delightful palate fancies may be to the taste, man can live and thrive on a very simple diet indeed, providing it is well balanced. This was excellently illustrated in the labor camps established last winter where the daily menu was an outstanding example of the plainest kind of fare.

"The point to be emphasized, however, is that whatever sacrifices may be required owing to the present economic situation, there is one that most decidedly should not be made, namely, health. Public health administration, with sustained budgets, is doing and will continue to do everything possible to protect citizens against the ravages of disease. But on the other hand, the individual himself owes a very definite obligation in this respect also.

"Most decidedly, there is no economy in eating undernourishing food or in other ways undermining health. Food and shelter costs are comparatively low. Moreover, the natural requirements for health are available to most merely for the taking. Fresh air costs nothing, available no more than a bit of exertion, sleep is quite free and rest likewise.

"It can not be gainsaid that, except for those dependent upon charity, illness is a real expense. Therefore it is much better to spend a little time, thought and wisdom on the business of keeping well, particularly since it takes very little money to do it, rather than to be guilty of practices which cause pain, suffering and financial outlay.

Couple Occupy Unique Role As To Home Land

One of the most unusual cases to come to the attention of city authorities is that of Mr. and Mrs. William Ballantyne who apparently share a role of being "without a country". Both are over 60 years of age and at present are living here, it is reported.

Some years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ballantyne came here to visit a daughter who was ill.

While here Mr. Ballantyne was given employment by a former administration in the city department of streets.

When Director of Streets Treser assumed his position the charge was made that Mr. Ballantyne was not a U. S. citizen.

The inevitable happened and Mr. and Mrs. Ballantyne thought they had better return to Canada, their native land.

The welfare department of Lawrence county paid their expenses to Buffalo, but they only got as far as the border line.

When they attempted to cross from the United States into Canada immigration authorities questioned them.

They had overstayed their three years' period, it is said, and they were refused admittance to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballantyne returned to this city.

Their daughter, it is reported, is still ill. He is without work and the aged folk apparently are "without a country".

City authorities have instructed City Solicitor White to present their case to the immigration officials at Washington.

Mrs. H. G. Coates, of North Liberty street, who has been ill, is improving.

Mrs. March Schawl, of West Clayton street, is confined to her home by illness.

William Reed has returned to his work at the Mahoningtown post-office after a week's absence due to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, of East Clayton street, spent yesterday and today visiting friends in Pittsburgh.

Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Hans, of Greenville, were Sunday visitors at the home of Alderman and Mrs. H. G. Coates, North Liberty street.

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillin are moving in town from Hickory Creek lodge today. They will reside on North Liberty street during the winter.

Mrs. Walters and two children and Thomas Masters, have returned to Warren, O., after a visit of several days with Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bevan, West Clayton street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dungan, of Berberston, O., who spent Thanksgiving and the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dungan, Newell avenue, returned home Monday.

Charles Dungan, Harold Gillespie, Arthur Guy, Virgil Wetton and Raymond Holliday returned to their studies at Westminster College today, after enjoying their Thanksgiving vacation at their homes.

Christmas parties are being planned by the clubs and lodges these days. Which reminds us—just 25 days until Santa Claus comes down the chimney.

Observations In 7th Ward

A lad from Texas stopped in Mahoningtown for a little while yesterday and startled the imaginations of several youngsters by walking down street wearing leather boots and a five or ten gallon cowboy hat. . . . It was Lou Hawthorne's car which caught on fire on East North street yesterday and brought such a huge crowd of people rushing to the scene. The fire did quite a lot of damage to the wiring. . . . A Newell avenue chap reached in his pocket the other day and found two street car tickets of the old paper variety. . . . If the seventh ward bowling team keeps up its fine record for the rest of the sixteen league games it will be right at the top of the list. . . . Christmas parties are being planned by the clubs and lodges these days. Which reminds us—just 25 days until Santa Claus comes down the chimney.

McCOY BIBLE CLASS

Mrs. Sam Fowler, West Cherry street, will be hostess to the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, at her home Thursday evening.

party attempts have inevitably been abortive and futile.

"Leadership will develop," in the opinion of the MILWAUKEE SENTINEL (Ind.), "and if history repeats itself as it has in the past, the Republican party, after a trial of Democratic administration, will come back into power. Politics, it has been demonstrated, moves in cycles."

The BOSTON TRANSCRIPT (Ind. Rep.) diagnoses the situation: "We agree that new blood is needed in the Republican party, new leadership and forward-looking ideas, but they are all available within the party, without the formation of a new one to bring them forth. Constitutional prohibition has been a horrible mistake, and the Republican party has been too slow to recognize it—we agree with Dr. Butler there—and the new leadership which is at hand will recognize that truth. This leadership will not include the Anti-Saloon league, whose dictates have been too blindly followed. Dr. Butler is right in his general contention, although we do not follow him in some of his details. The party can rehabilitate itself within its own ranks."

As to a return of the Republican party to power, the HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.) comments: "It will elect other presidents, possibly not the next one. From time to time, however, it will face again the same indictment that Dr. Butler now gives. As long as it is the party of business, the Republican party will be definitely conservative. It will on many occasions appear not to embody the moral and spiritual leadership of the nation. There will be occasions when that fact will cause or assist in its defeat. There will be others when the interest of the people in material things will place it in power. In the meantime the nation may rejoice that the original ideals of democracy have not been entirely lost, that they continue to inspire men to whom the nation may turn when something more than their material opinions seem important."

"Demise of the party," recalls the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Rep.) "was prophesied in 1864, when Lincoln ran for a second term; and in 1872, when 'liberal Republicans,' under the lead of Carl Schurz, split and joined the Democrats, running Horace Greeley against Grant. Since then the party has been 'on its last legs' frequently, as in 1894, after its defeat by Cleveland; in 1896, with McKinley, and in 1912, when Taft went down to humiliating defeat. But always it came back to power, responsibility and public confidence. And that, too, as the Chinaman said, 'can happen.'"

County Treasurer William O. Pitts yesterday issued a hunting license to Amherst Miller, aged 88, of Harlan, Ind. Mr. Miller is a veteran of the civil war, having been a member of Company D, 88th Indiana Volunteer Infantry. He was on his way to the northern part of Pennsylvania to hunt deer. His license cost him $15.50.

Mr. Miller was accompanied by his son, F. H. Miller. They had driven through from Harlan, Ind., and expected to make Benneville, Pa., before stopping.

Despite his 88 years the elder Miller is hale and hearty. He confided to County Treasurer Pitts that he still has the original set of teeth with which nature endowed him. He wouldn't trade them for the best set of store teeth he ever saw, he said. Both his eyesight and hearing are good.

"I come over into Pennsylvania to hunt, quite frequently," he said. "Last year I was here and shot a buck. In fact I wouldn't shoot any other kind of a deer."

Mr. Miller did not show any signs of fatigue after his long ride from Indiana, and was keen to get started to Benneville as quickly as possible. County Treasurer Pitts declares he was the youngest old man he ever saw.

"Hunger Marchers" Ordered To Leave At Toledo, Ohio

Caravan Of Marchers Head For Cleveland, Next Stopping Place

(International News Service) TOLEDO, O., Nov. 29.—Ordered out of the city after causing two minor riots, a caravan of 900 "hunger marchers" left Toledo under police escort today for Cleveland, their next stopping place.

The marchers are enroute to Washington where they plan to demand unemployment relief from Congress.

Approximately 50 of the marchers staged a disturbance last night when they were being fed at the community welfare house. A second outbreak occurred at the community center while breakfast was served this morning.

WILL VOTE FOR LEGALIZING BEER

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Senator George W. Norris, insurgent leader, announced today he favored rigid governmental economy, opposed war debt reductions, favored legalization of beer and opposed resubmission of the 18th amendment.

Norris also declared he would not aid the Democrats in organizing the Senate at the short session of Congress. He said the Democrats would "make a mistake" if they began a scramble for jobs as soon as Congress reconvenes. He also announced he would not accept a cabinet post from Mr. Roosevelt nor the chairmanship of the judiciary committee from the Democrats when they take control.

Should Pay Debts

"I favor legalizing beer in an effort to bring about better enforcement of prohibition," said Norris. "I do not favor resubmission of the 18th amendment, because I want to try out enforcement of it after beer is legalized. But I will not be a party to delaying resubmission if the necessary majority of Congress favors the course."

On the debt situation Norris said: "I expect no action by Congress this winter on the war debt problem. It will be impossible to get Congress to legislate on this subject unless some new concessions have been proposed in favor of our taxpayers. I shall oppose cutting one penny from the present settlements. We have cut our debts too much already. If Europe doesn't want to pay her debts, let the debtor nations default."

ALLEGED BARTERING OF SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE INVESTIGATED

through Pitt three years ago. It was said his uncle had bought it. It was signed by Senator William D. Mansfield, of Pittsburgh. Senator Mansfield's persistence in wanting to know all the details whereby Blankman got the scholarship originally received by the Allegheny County Senator was the chief cause of an investigation which disclosed the traffic in scholarships to Penn. Temple, Penn State and the University of Pittsburgh. Joseph M. Gazzam, Jr., a local attorney revealed.

Louis Freedman, another youth living a few doors from Blankman, also sought a scholarship to Penn. He paid Pitt $300 for the scholarship which never was delivered. Gazzam said. A third youth in the same neighborhood paid $400 for one of the bartered scholarships, but as yet has failed to get it, according to Gazzam.

Racketeers Take Hand
Each Senator has at his disposal 12 new four-year scholarships at the start of each university year to the four state aided institutions. That is, three to each school. Each scholarship has a face value of from $1200 to $1600. These are often exchanged by the various senators and in this way they got into the hands of racketeers, who allegedly peddled them at prices ranging from $600 up. Many were sold that could not be delivered.

Pitt Investigates
(International News Service)
Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—Although officially denied, investigation into reports of scholarship "racketeering" was understood to be quietly underway at the University of Pittsburgh here today "merely to determine if any Pitt scholarship had been bought."

Chancellor John G. Bowman stated he never had known of an instance at the University of Pittsburgh where a student had purchased a scholarship, adding he would conduct no investigation unless he heard "something definite."

Records of scholarship students, it was reported, were being scanned to determine if any held their awards through state senators. Chancellor Bowman was in Harrisburg today.

State Head Speaks
(International News Service)
State College, Pa., Nov. 29.—"So far as I know there have been no irregularities in connection with the granting of these scholarships to students at Penn State."

Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of Pennsylvania State College, made this assertion when asked to comment upon charges that scholarships granted to state senators for distribution were being "sold to the highest bidder."

Penn State officials explained today that three senatorial scholarships at the institution are granted by each of the 50 senators. This making a total of 150 scholarships annually. The scholarships are good for a four-year course of study at Penn State and exempt the holder from the incidental fee of $100 per year.

Confer With Pinchot
(International News Service)
Harrisburg, Nov. 29.—Chancellor John G. Bowman, of the University of Pittsburgh, and John Weber, business manager, were in Harrisburg today to confer with Gov. Gifford Pinchot about charges that scholarships to state-aided colleges were being sold to prospective students.

It was not established early today whether the two officials had yet seen the governor nor if arrangements have been made for a conference.

FOES OF NATION AND VETS ARE ASSAILED BY HEAD OF LEGION

proves and condemns this movement, and will do everything in its power to discourage it," was the statement of the National Commander.

Many Noted Guests.
Commander Johnson, with State Commander Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, department president of the American Legion, Mrs. R. Beadle of Shamokin; Western Vice President, Jack Watson of Pittsburgh, and many other Legion and Auxiliary staff officers were guests of the posts and auxiliaries of the 28th district at the annual Commander's Banquet in The Cathedral.

Commander Johnson was the principal speaker at the program in the auditorium, which followed one of the finest banquets ever served by the 28th district.

It was a most colorful gathering, with three of the finest bugle and drum corps in this section of the country to add a martial air to the program.

The invocation at the banquet was pronounced by Rev. Charles Warren Johnstone, a wounded World War veteran, who is pastor of the Central Christian church.

Wadlinger Presides.
Ivor V. Davis, general chairman of the banquet committee, introduced Major Guy J. Wadlinger as toastmaster of the evening, who conducted the program in a most capable manner, confining it within the time limit set aside for the speaking program.

The opening numbers on the program were given by the bugle and drum corps of J. Wilbur Randolph Post, No. 137, of Ellwood City, and Youngstown Post No. 13 of Youngstown, both organizations displaying excellent training and musical ability in their numbers.

Major Wadlinger introduced the distinguished guests assembled on the platform, which included the following:

Mrs. Erma A. Beadle, department president, of Shamokin; Mrs. J. S. Baer of Vandegrift, senior vice president; Mrs. C. V. Homer of Greenville, district director; Mrs. M. A. Stanier of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county district director; Miss Amanda Johnson, Ridgeview, department finance officer; Mrs. Lloyd, department chairman of trophies and awards committee; Mrs. William Loudon of Beaver, president of the four-county council; Mrs. May Riddle, department president of the West Virginia; Mrs. E. J. Suber, president New Castle auxiliary; Mrs. A. R. Mrs. Beadle Speaks
Mrs. Beadle in her greeting and remarks stated that the American Legion Auxiliary has a heritage that has been handed down to them from the days of 1917 and 1918.

"As we cannot compensate for the suffering which many of these men of ours have gone through and are still bearing," she stated.

"The American Legion Auxiliary stands for better citizenship, good fellowship and a square deal for the American Legion. We cannot forget what our country owes to you men from whom it took two of the best years of your life and in many cases gave nothing in return but pain and suffering."

"The last chapter will not be closed until those disabled buddies have received a square deal from their country. To that end we pledge the assistance of the Department of Pennsylvania Auxiliary."

Commander James C. Brice was introduced and briefly thanked all who have assisted in making the banquet the success that it turned out to be by their presence.

State Commander
District Commander Claire B. Ross of Butler was introduced and in behalf of the posts of the 26th district, presented past District Commander, Charles "Chuck" Edwards of Beaver county with a wrist watch as a token of esteem and in recognition of his services to the posts of the district in the past.

State Commander Griffith, in his brief greeting to his comrades from Pennsylvania, stated that he was proud to be present at such a gathering as had been assembled here.

He said that he felt that the American Legion was approaching a year of greatest service to the state and the nation, and that the efforts will be made by the Department of Pennsylvania to widen and extend the service of the American Legion.

"I can think of no greater privilege than to be able to be a member of the American Legion or its auxiliary, which is a proof of service in time of peace as well as of service in time of war."

"It is the duty of every member to enlist every eligible person in its ranks during the coming year. As never before, we must show our strength and I can foresee a membership in 1933 that will be greater than ever before."

"Our first duty, however, is now as at the very inception of the American Legion, to extend a helping hand to the disabled comrade and his dependent."

National Commander
Commander Johnson was accorded a tremendous ovation when he arose to speak. One of the most virile commanders the American Legion has ever had, he looked every inch the fighter as he looked himself up to his more than six feet in height and hurled denunciation at the foes who are assailing the American Legion and the veterans of the World War, particularly the disabled man who is unable to help himself.

He cited the fact that the Department of Pennsylvania was one of the most outstanding in the entire nation, because of the fact that it had men of real ability in its ranks, many of the missions which it hopes to accomplish during the year have been entrusted to the hands of Legionnaires from Pennsylvania, and cited the list of appointments of various Pennsylvania members to the national committees.

"The American Legion is an ideal that was inevitable when the World War ended. The things of this life that are most worth while are spontaneous. It is a matter of pride, therefore, to every Legionnaire, that the American Legion was an automatic, natural impulse. A spontaneous thing born with the sound of battle ringing in our ears."

"There are men present who know the American Legion from its inception. They know how we started off with a large membership. They know, too, how we started to slip until we began to do our duty of rehabilitation service in behalf of the disabled veterans. They recall how we climbed back again."

Presents Program
"I see before me men who were present when President Coolidge told the American Legion national convention in Omaha that while the influence of the American Legion will be great, the influence of the words of Calvin Coolidge are as true today as when he uttered them. We have seen our Legion membership grow through the years since then as a definite program was developed. It is that program which I wish to paint with a big brush on a big canvas."

"The first love, the first obligation and duty of the American Legion, and the number one program now as it always will be, is rehabilitation. To those of us who returned able-bodied from France, the war ended with the armistice or with our return to this country, but for the casualty of the battle, the war goes on forever. Nothing this country can do to rehabilitate or make comfortable the days of that man is too good, or beyond what this country wishes to do or give for him. That is the American Legion creed of rehabilitation, in a few words."

"When the Portland convention ended, as Commander of the American Legion, I went to the President and the United States and informed him of the resolutions which the convention had adopted and which I as Commander intended to carry out, if possible. The Daily World, Communist paper, nevertheless, secretly went to the President and told him that they represented the rank and file of the veterans and that I was opposed to the bonus and would work against it."

"Let me say right now that the Daily World told a lie out of the whole cloth. The American Legion has been under fire from the radicals and Communists because we favor the Credit Bill, which would provide that a man can become a citizen without promising to bear arms in defense of our country; and because we have asked Congress to appropriate funds to investigate the activities of radicals in this country."

No Bonus March Approved
"They have stated that the American Legion is cooperating in the present organization of another Bonus March on Washington. Let me say that the American Legion thoroughly disapproves and condemns any such march and will do all in its power to discourage and prevent it if possible, just as it did in the past."

"At this time those disabled veterans, and the American Legion which is fighting their battles for them, are up against an organized crowd of clever opponents who are not disinterested in relieving themselves of the responsibility of taxation. They misrepresent facts deliberately. They are inciting class against class."

"In a speech made by Admiral Byrd, taken down by stenotype at my request he said, in one sentence, that 'our purpose is to cut down total taxation, local, state and federal, 25 per cent. Taxes must come down.'"

"With that statement generally we would agree. May I say to you that Admiral Byrd said in this same statement that he is a Legionnaire and proud of it, and I quote again: 'I want to say to you again that I believe in the veterans and I believe in the Legion. I am commander of a Legion post and I am proud of it.' Thanks to him for that!"

"Admiral Byrd is a distinguished son of a distinguished family. I have naught to say against him except that I believe that unwittingly and unintentionally he is the stalking horse for the one person out of 3,000 of our population who is against the veterans of America. To prove that to you, I now read from Archibald Roosevelt, secretary of the same organization for which Admiral Byrd appears."

"I quote from The New Outlook: 'The United States must and shall pay its debts even though following new and false gods of political philosophy we have foolishly increased these debts to staggering proportions. Only small cuts can be obtained from the Army and Navy in the present state of world affairs. The public works program is a definite policy of relief and no immediate cut is available there. There remains, therefore, only the veterans.' He doesn't say anything about hospital care of veterans being a definite policy of relief. It is not only a definite policy but it is law put on the statute books after years of careful study, experience and exhaustive hearings in which the best medical advice in the world was given."

"The spokesman for that organization which is fighting the veterans' speaks and says: 'There remains, therefore, only the veterans. And while Admiral Byrd is out paying his respects and his compliments to the American Legion there appears in print from the pen of Archibald Roosevelt, the secretary of the organization, the statement that in reducing taxes, there remains, therefore, only the veteran.'"

"Now let me read from the Congressional Record of May 18, 1932, Page 10,903, Volume 75, No. 126: 'Mr. Archibald Roosevelt heads the self-styled national economy committee which wants to reduce veterans' relief. In 1930 the Roosevelt Steamship Co., of which Mr. Roosevelt was part owner and a director secured by a ten-year contract from the government to carry the mail from Baltimore to Hamburg. The distance is 4,077 miles. The contract price is $6 a mile for 52 trips a year which amounts to $24,462 a year or $1,272,014 a year. The service commenced July 1, 1931. To date the government has actually paid by reason of that contract the sum of $807,246. Other steamship lines would have rendered the same service for not to exceed $26,246. Therefore, the Roosevelt company received a gift from the government amounting to $79,766. One of their vessels went from New York by Plymouth to London a short time ago. It carried two pounds of letters. The Statutory price for such service is 30 cents a pound. The Roosevelt company received the contract price of $6 a mile, $30,214 for the trip or a gift of more than $20,212. Another steamship company during the last fiscal year rendered service of the value of $95 but received from the government for this service the sum of $607,792.50."

"The creed of The American Legion on immigration can be summarized in a few words: We believe that the diseased, the paupers and the criminals of foreign lands should not be permitted to come to American shores as candidates for our poorhouses, our hospitals and our jails. We believe if there are those who have come and who are not loyal to the Stars and Stripes, the sooner the American government sends them home the better off this country will be."

"And when Communism comes knocking at the gates of this country, its growth will be small, because the American Legion stands by to help you combat this menace."

"To you from Pennsylvania, I wish to say that you lack 10,000 members of being the greatest Department in the Union and when the Roll is called on membership next year, I hope you will be the greatest."

The closing number on the program was a selection by the bugle and drum corps of the Slippery Rock Post, after which the guests were conducted to the ball room and West dining room, where dancing and cards were enjoyed during the balance of the evening.

The program for last evening's program was dedicated to the memory of Harry Magee Long, who served in the capacity of general chairman of the National Commander's banquet committee for several years. In opening the program, the assemblage was asked to stand and face the West for a half minute in honor of all departed comrades.

During the course of the program, Toastmaster Wadlinger extended the thanks of the Perry S. Garrison Post and the various posts of the 28th District for the splendid spirit of cooperation shown by all who had contributed in any way to the success of the National Commander's Banquet.

Mayor McCloskey Denies Charges At Johnstown, Penna.

Warrants Issued Against Mayor Charging Perjury And "Freeing Of Prisoners"

WAS GIVEN VOTE, DIDN'T REGISTER

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—Mayor Eddie McCloskey, "godfather" of the retreating bonus army last summer, today categorically denied charges of perjury and "releasing commonwealth prisoners" contained in warrants secured by R. Milton Good, a private detective.

The red-headed former prize-fighter was to be arraigned on the two warrants before Alderman George Patterson today. Patterson issued the warrants on information filed with him by Good.

Was Granted Vote.
The perjury charge resulted from McCloskey's affidavit to commissioners that he was out of the city on all three registration days before the last election. McCloskey was permitted to vote without registering.

Good claimed McCloskey presided over a city council meeting on September 20, one of the registration days.

At least three Commonwealth prisoners held in the Johnstown jail were freed by McCloskey, Good said. The mayor was alleged to have taken the men, together with municipal prisoners, into the county and released them.

In his denial, McCloskey charged the warrants were issued "the best of constables and magistrates who I have opposed."

"I wouldn't take an oath to anything I knew to be false," he continued. "I swore I was out of town on registration days and I was."

Charges Denied.
McCloskey answered the other charge by saying it was his practice to free drunks arrested in Johnstown by taking them into the country after they had sobered up and making them walk back.

"That's punishment enough. Why should their wives and children have to suffer while they pay fines?" he asked.

"In groups so freed there may have been some persons taken from trains and sentenced under state laws," he explained. "I don't know. But nobody that was freed faced any serious charge."

Tate Brothers Are Indicted

Two Sons Of Slain Isley Tate Will Face Murder Charges

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—True bills charging murder today were recorded against Sam and George Tate, youthful sons of Isley Tate, accused of patricide.

The grand jury returned the indictments, together with one charging receipt of stolen goods against John Tate, another son of the murdered man, after a brief study of the case. John was alleged to have taken $200 from his dead father's pocket.

Sam and George have agreed to plead guilty, according to District Attorney Wade K. Newell.

Tax Penalty Is Effective Thursday

Only two days remain until there will be a five percent delinquent tax penalty on 1932 school taxes and a six percent delinquent tax penalty on 1932 city taxes, according to L. W. McClung, treasurer. By paying the school and city taxes for 1932 before December 1 the taxpayer can escape paying the penalty.

Buy Christmas Seals And Save Lives Of Many

Anti-Tuberculosis Society Is One Of Agencies That Does Work

Christmas seals are available in every part of the county. They make very attractive letter sent out, especially at this time of year, with the bright red and green color and the cheer that is suggested in the two children singing carols. You, the people of Lawrence county, are not limited to just purchasing a few stamps. Your dollars in any amount you desire will be acceptable. They are needed, too, as the depression has made conditions worse for those among whom the greatest percentage of the dread tuberculosis occurs. Just buy a hundred, two hundred or more seals and then tuck in a dollar or so for good measure. Your dollars will go a long way toward saving the lives of a number of local people.

Farr, district superintendent, will speak on "Evangelism" after which there will be a round table conference. Communion will be served at 4 p. m. Any laymen interested in the conference, may attend.

At 8 p. m. there will be a general mass meeting in the Epworth church at which time the bishop will speak, using Evangelism as his theme.

The members of the Tau Delta class of Epworth church will serve dinner to the visiting ministers and delegates.

Federal Embezzler Put On Probation

Former Postmaster At Knox, Pa., Fined $51.52 And Put On Probation

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29.—George H. Mull, former postmaster at Knox, Clarion county, was assessed court costs of $51.52 and placed on two years probation when he pleaded guilty to embezzlement in federal court here Monday.

Mull admitted taking $528.42 of postal funds, and converting it to his own use.

ALL-BRAN STOPPED HIS SLEEPLESSNESS AND TIRED FEELING

Cereal Relieved His Constipation

Read this enthusiastic letter from Mr. Haraden:
"My system had been run down for quite some time. About three weeks ago, I started taking ALL-BRAN for breakfast. I had been unable to sleep nights, but now all I have to do is turn in, and before I know it, I am fast asleep."

"I used to have a tired feeling all day, but now that ALL-BRAN is in my home to stay, there will be no more tired feelings with me."—Mr. Carl Haraden, Main Street, Hamilton, Massachusetts.

Science says that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this safer than taking pills and drugs—often harmful! Just eat two tablespoons daily for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

THE CITIZENS NATIONAL BANK OF NEW CASTLE, PA.

More Obstacles Are In Path Of Senate Probers

Senate Utility Committee Will Resume Hearing At Capital Wednesday

INJUNCTIONS ARE DELAYING PROBE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Further obstacles stood in the path of the senate utility investigating committee today as the Dauphin county court issued two temporary injunctions halting the enforcement of subpoenas issued by the group.

One injunction holds in abeyance enforcement of a subpoena directing Commissioner S. Ray Shelby of Uniontown to appear here tomorrow with records of his bank and brokerage accounts. Shelby obtained a similar injunction in Fayette county against the second national Bank of Uniontown.

Will Resume Hearing
The other court order delays the appearance of officials of four subsidiaries of the Associated Gas and Electric system with a mass of records and thousands of dollars in securities of their companies.

Olivier K. Eaton, chief counsel of the committee, said today's hearing will be held as scheduled and other witnesses before the committee will be questioned. The injunctions are returnable Saturday, December 3, but Attorney George Ross Hull, who filed the injunction petitions, said he would request the committee to agree to a continuance until December 13 because the criminal court calendar would prevent action on answers until that time.

No Cause Shown.
The petitions asserted that neither the senate committee nor the senate itself has the power to issue such subpoenas. They asserted further that creation of the investigating committee and appropriation of funds for the investigation were not included in the call issued by Gov. Gifford Pinchot for the last special legislative session when the probe was ordered.

It was further asserted that nothing has been shown to indicate the papers and records which the committee seeks are relevant to the case. Since no charges of wrong doing have been made against those from whom the records were sought, taking possession of them by subpoenas would be a violation of the search and seizure clauses of the national and state constitutions, and a transgression of the fourteenth amendment in the national constitution. It was argued.

Expect Big Crowd To Hear Hausner

Noted Polish Flyer To Speak
At Falcon Hall Here
This Evening

Falcon hall on Miller avenue will probably be crowded tonight when Stanley Hausner, intrepid Polish trans-Atlantic flyer who was forced down at sea on a flight from New York to Warsaw, will give his experiences on the memorable trip. He is appearing here under the auspices of the Polish citizens of New Castle, but the meeting is open to the public and no admission is being charged.

Mr. Hausner will arrive in New Castle about 7:25 this evening and will be escorted to the Falcon hall by a committee of Polish-Americans. The program will open at 8:15 o'clock with special music being presented by the Polish Falcon choir under the direction of J. R. Noga.

Hausner left the United States from the port of New York in a plane June 3. Some 800 kilometers off the coast of Portugal he was forced down into the Atlantic ocean, where he and his pilot floated on their plane for eight days. On June 11 they were picked up by a Circle Shell steamer and returned to the United States, landing at Savannah, Ga.

His experiences are intensely interesting and should prove an attraction tonight.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Will Tell Her Life Story

Former Wife Of Harry K. Thaw Will Bare Inside Facts Of Famous Case

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The inside story of the famous Harry K. Thaw case is going to be told at last.

None other than Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the former wife of the man whose shooting of Stanford White and subsequent trial held the nation spellbound, is to do the telling. She revealed plans today for her autobiography.

"I'm going to tell the truth," she said, sitting upright in the hospital bed where she is recovering from a long illness, "the absolute truth and, believe me, it's going to blow up a certain person. It will be the great American tragedy—the Thaw case. I'm going to write the story of my whole life, and believe me, I've lived about 20 lives in this existence."

She promised to lay bare not only the Thaw case, but also to contrast "love as it is now" with love as she knew it 20 years ago.

The only thing important to her now she said, was health, and, of course, her 22-year-old aviator son, Russell K. Thaw.

State Grange Master Will Dedicate Hall

Interesting Ceremony To Be Held By North Beaver
Grange Friday Evening

On Friday evening, December 2, at 8 p. m., North Beaver grange will dedicate its hall located on the Moravia-Mt. Jackson road, one-half mile from Moravia. The hall was remodeled during the past summer.

E. B. Dorset, master of the Pennsylvania State grange, a resident of Tioga county, will be present and have charge of the ceremonies. Friends and neighbors of the district as well as grangers from all parts of the county and surrounding districts, are invited to be present and assist in welcoming the state master to Lawrence county.

On account of route 18 being closed, it is suggested that those coming from the north and eastern parts of the county, go to the grange hall by way of Mt. Jackson or else by way of East New Castle, Savannah and West Pittsburg.

Berlin Papers Print Death Of Communist Chief

Claim Is Made That Gregory
Zinovieff Has Been Assassinated In Russia

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Berlin newspapers this afternoon published rumors that Gregory Zinovieff has been assassinated.

The original report of Zinovieff's death was given to foreign correspondents by one of his close friends. The foreign office at first refused either to confirm or deny it and then at 6:30 tonight issued the denial.

The foreign office professed to be without knowledge of Zinovieff's whereabouts. There were reports that he was recently exiled to Berzov, Siberia, where he was given a minor governmental clerical post.

Lions Plan For Annual Event For Local Blind

Yuletide Program To Be Presented At Church On December 20

When the night of Tuesday, December 20 comes around, the night of nights for Lawrence county's unfortunate blind, the Lions club will stage its usual yuletide cheer feast for them in the Epworth M. E. church dining room.

Chairman Dr. Thomas Shaffer, head of the club's committee on blind work, with his committee aides, further advanced the festive plans when the club held its monthly business luncheon in a North Mill street dining room at noon today.

The annual party, now a long-looked-forward-to date for the guests who share it, will be open to the public this year. The evening program will be presented by the talented blind.

With Dr. Shaffer on the committee shaping arrangements are Earl Ramsey, Roy Conway and R. G. Campbell while I. J. Miller, W. O. "Red" Williams and William McCombs are cooperating as a special program committee.

According to the plans, each Lion will be host to a number of blind persons. They will bring them from and accompany them back to their homes. Each blind person will receive a useful gift, some of them food and others needed clothing.

The club today initiated two new members into Lionism, R. Donald Wilson and A. E. Miller, President George L. Smith obligated them.

Mrs. McCutcheon Views Photo Of Body Called Hers

Noted Woman Wanderer Sees
Picture Of Dead Woman
At Chicago Police Station

Mrs. Ida McCutcheon, 45, of New Kensington, wanderer for the past twenty years, who was recently reported dead at Chicago, where the body of a woman believed to have been murdered was found and identified as that of Mrs. McCutcheon, according to word from Chicago police authorities, visited a station of Highway police in that city, where she viewed a picture of the body supposed to be hers. Mrs. McCutcheon on viewing the picture declared that she had never seen the man picture. John Miller of the Salvation Army headquarters in Chicago Heights, who identified the body as that of Mrs. McCutcheon, has also seen Mrs. McCutcheon and stated that he had been mistaken in his original identification of the body.

It will be remembered that Mrs. McCutcheon spent two nights in the local police station recently at the time she was reported dead in Chicago. She has since gone to Chicago.

MacDonald And King Conferring

Premier MacDonald And King
George Discuss War Debt
Action By Britain

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—Bearing a draft of the British government's new note asking suspension of the December 15 war debt payment, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald called at Buckingham Palace this evening and went into conference with King George.

Before leaving 10 Downing street for the palace Premier MacDonald called a special session of his cabinet for nine p. m. in the cabinet room of the House of Commons.

At this meeting the draft of the note is expected to be approved and probably will be dispatched to Washington without further delay. The premier's visit to the palace was in line with King George's request that he be kept in close touch with all developments. It was anticipated he might suggest some revisions in the draft of the note, which Premier MacDonald will promptly transmit to the cabinet at tonight's session.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

PAIN EASED FIRST DAY

If you suffer from crippling rheumatic aches and pains, Neuritis, lumbago, lame knotted muscles, swollen inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the irritating poisons that cause rheumatism.

What you need is RU-MA, the new internal medicine that acts on the blood, liver and kidneys, and helps expel these dangerous poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination. Only an internal medicine can do this.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop—RU-MA eases pain first day and gives rheumatic sufferers such safe and lasting relief from their stiffening, crippling lameness and torturing pain that it is recommended by druggists everywhere.

Eckerd's and New Castle Drug Co. urges every sufferer to get a $1.00 bottle of RU-MA and agree to return the purchase price if it does not free them from all their aches and pains of rheumatism.

SWITCH CONVENTION PLACE

New Castle's Hi-Y delegation will attend the Greensburg section of the state Older Boy's conference instead of the Warren, Pa., meeting. Boys' Work Secretary W. A. Thomas learned today in communication from the Harrisburg office. The Greensburg convention will occur simultaneously with the Warren program over this coming week end. Up until today the local delegation was scheduled to go to Warren. A party of nearly 25 will attend from here.

HOLD OWN DISCUSSIONS

Members of the Uparatasa fraternity and the Senior Hi-Y clubs met in their usual meetings at the Y last night. Informal discussions occupied the members of both.

GOING TO FRANKLIN

Members of the New Castle Phalanx fraternity will join other northwestern Pennsylvania chapters at Franklin next Sunday for a district dinner and conference in the Franklin Y. M. C. A. The program will commence at 10 a. m. and close at 3 in the afternoon.

All afternoon will be devoted to an informal open discussion to be led by the superintendent of the Polk State school, at Polk, Pa.

MEETING CALLED AT STATE NURSE'S OFFICE WEDNESDAY

Members of the Child Welfare Department of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs and representatives of the Parents-Teachers Association of Lawrence county, will meet Wednesday at 3 p. m. instead of 2 p. m. as previously announced at the office of the state nurse, Miss Grace Ackerman, room 519 Lawrence Savings and Trust Company building. The purpose of the meeting is to determine on the ways and means of distributing state milk to needy pre-school children.

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERS BACK PLAN TO SUSTAIN WORK

Decide Against Further 'Cuts'

Membership Meeting On Monday Night Determines Future Course

PLAN TO RAISE $5,000 FUND NEEDED

A determination not to drop any part of the association's work without a gigantic effort to raise a five thousand dollar deficit, was the result of last night's meeting of the local Young Women's Christian Association.

Facing with chins up the greatest financial crisis which the Y. W. C. A. of the city has ever met, the hundred or so representatives of the membership met to decide what to do about the situation.

It was apparent from the start of the discussion that no one would consent to the idea of eliminating any department of this organization which has become such an integral part of the community, without making an attempt to raise the money. Thought of dropping the work with colored women, with foreign-born women, high school girls, business girls, unemployed girls, was far from the minds of anyone present.

To Launch Campaign

Enthusiastic response greeted the suggestion of launching an intense campaign for money. Representatives of membership clubs, classes, committees and groups present eagerly took the floor and offered ideas for raising the money—they volunteered to give dances, rummage sales and tennis lessons, dinners, parties, have tag days—and all showed a keen realization for working quickly and untiringly.

Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, chairman of the board of directors, who presided over the meeting said:

"It is our common task to face this problem together. We will first try to devise, if possible, a plan whereby we do not need to cut any of our splendid work. After we have done all we can and then fail, we will then talk about cutting."

Mrs. Howard Kirk, who is and has been a member of the board of directors most of the eighteen years the Association has occupied its present building, then took charge of the meeting and presented the situation in detail.

Much Reduced

Mrs. Kirk said that the board has been cutting expenses to such a degree in the past two years that there is no possible way to cut farther without eliminating some department of the institution altogether.

"Two years ago" she stated, "The operating expenses amounted to $32,000. The operating expenses have now been reduced to $16,000, or a reduction of practically 50 percent. Two years ago the salary budget was $17,000. Now it has been cut to $10,000 or a cut of $7,000. We would have been able to get along alright," Mrs. Kirk continued, "If the entire amount of money promised last year from the Community Chest had been forthcoming and if we had not received a 25 percent cut on this year's Community Chest budget. Our deficit for the two years amounts to nearly $5,000."

Mrs. Kirk said that the board had given much thought to the matter, has met with the trustees and laid the facts before them. She said that although $5,000 is a lot of money it can be raised if 500 women (the Association's membership) decide that it can be.

That this was also the belief of the women present was obvious by their lively response.

To get immediately to work to raise the money was the decision made. Individual contributions will be solicited first, an intensive membership campaign will be sponsored, money-making schemes will be carried out by clubs and groups in the organization. A great effort will be made to raise a large part of the cash before Christmas.

Next week the ministers will have Dr. E. Clyde Xander, head of Thiel College as the morning's speaker.

Catarrhal Deafness Or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, you should know that these distressing symptoms may frequently be overcome by this simple home treatment.

Secure from Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., or your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength). Take one and add 1-4 pint hot water and a little sugar. One tablespoonful four times a day should quickly and completely relieve distressing head noises and deafness due to catarrh, loss of smell and taste, and dropping mucus. If nearly blind per cent. of all ear troubles are catarrhal, there must be many whose hearing Parment can help.

Break Bull To Harness For Work On Local Farm

"You may lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink." And most any farmer wouldn't hesitate in adding that you may put a bull in harness but you cannot make him work.

But, folks, step up and meet "Berry," the two year old Lawrence county bovine who shatters all traditions of bulldom by becoming a beast of burden, and liking it! Out at the North Beaver township farm of John McMillin, Mahoningtown druggist, there was a lot of work to be done this summer. Richard Martin, (McMillin's right hand man) made a check of the farm population and found it consisted of two ducks, one squirrel and one bull. No member of the group seemed very promising as a worker, but Martin fastened his attention on the bull.

What a rotten world! Take a nice modest boy; give him 76 columns of praise for carrying a ball; and then cuss him for having swellhead.

New Film Romance

Little Virginia Cherrill, blonde actress who once was Charlie Chaplin's leading lady, is shown at the bike races in Los Angeles with Cary Grant, who, according to the Hollywood gossip, has an option on the lovely Virginia's heart. Grant, one of the newcomers to the film capital, is said to be well on his way to stardom.

Westfield Thespians Set For Beaver District Meet

Hopeful of victory in the tri-county district dramatic tournament they go to Beaver county to compete in on Thursday evening, Dec. 1, the well rehearsed Westfield Grange cast, winners of the Lawrence county laurels, hastily completed plans for their participation today.

The victorious Westfield cast will give their one-act production, "The Bishop's Candlesticks," in competition with a Beaver county and Washington county rural group in the Beaver high school auditorium at eight o'clock that evening. It is likely that a party of North Beaver township folks will accompany the Lawrence entrants to the district contest.

Rivals Rate High
County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch, whose organization planned the county contest, announced that Westfield's opposition will be the Buffalo Grange of Washington county and the North Sewickley Grange of Beaver county. Both won over rivals in their counties.

The Washington entry will give "His Best Foot Forward" first on the program. Westfield will follow with its play, and the Beaver county group will appear last in "The Singing Spider".

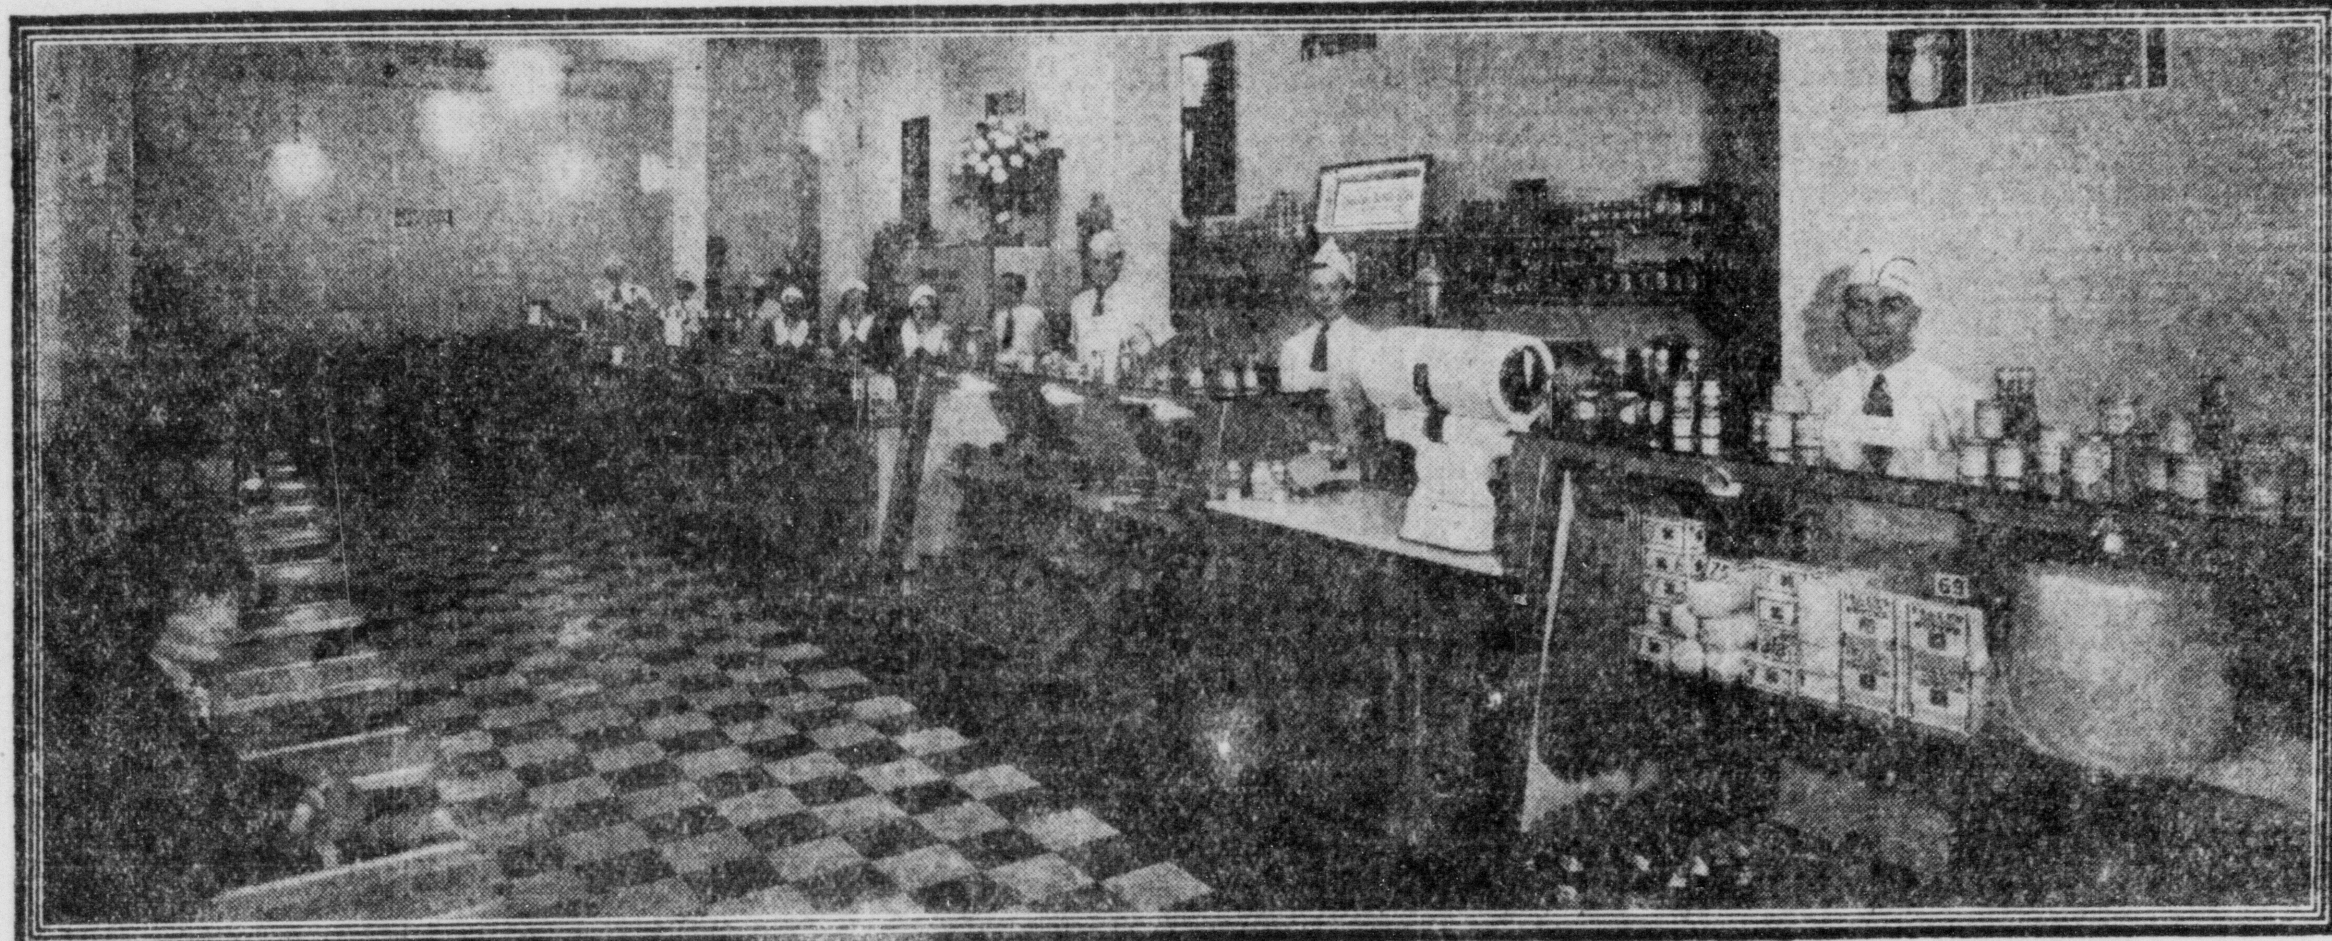

County Agent McCulloch said that, as heretofore, the winner of this meet will be eligible to compete with the 18 other district champions in the state rural dramatic tournament at Harrisburg next January, when the state farm show is held. Westfield did and won first place in the stiff competition last year.

Competent judges for the Beaver elimination will be Glenn Jewel, Pittsburgh; Earl Ronine, Wheeling, W. Va., and Josephine Ifft, Evans City.

DEPARTS FOR HUNT

Jared M. B. Reis, 313 East street, former member of the Pennsylvania game commission, left today to hunt quail in the woods of Summerville, South Carolina. He will remain there for some time.

Added to clear starch, a tiny piece of soap will give a fine gloss and prevent irons from sticking.

To Award Contract For Shoes Thursday

County Commissioners Have Experts Checking Over The Bids Submitted

County commissioners announced this morning that the contract for 1200 pairs of shoes for relief work, the bids for which were opened on Monday, will not be awarded until Thursday.

As each bidder submitted samples of shoes, representing the products of various manufacturers, it is necessary to check over the bids to see if they comply with the specifications.

The commissioners have employed James Mayberry and C. B. Witsch of Boyles avenue to do this work. Mr. Mayberry has had many years of experience in the shoe business as has Mr. Witsch, the latter as a shoe salesman.

A cursory examination of the bids showed that some of them were based on shoes made by the same manufacturer. On these shoes the prices varied considerably. Indications are that no one bidder will secure all of the contract, but that it is likely to be split up.

Engineer Company Controversy Heard

Judge James A. Chambers this morning took up in court the case of Anna C. Duff, Mary E. Browne, Mary S. Gillfillan, J. Clyde Gillfillan and Edward W. Beadel against the Pennsylvania Engineering Company. The case is one in which the plaintiffs as stockholders of the Engineering Company, filed objections to the method of affiliating the company with the Mead-Penn Iron Works of Meadville. The case is being heard by Judge Chambers without a jury. Most of the forenoon was taken up arguing legal technicalities.

C. H. Milholland Gives Figures On Rising Cost Of Government In City

In order that tax payers may have an intelligent understanding of the mounting cost of government in this city, Civil Engineer C. H. Milholland, has spent considerable time in delving into city records for reliable data.

The figures on governmental costs are for 1917, 1921, 1926 and 1931. Four periods were taken in order that comparisons might be made. Mr. Milholland submits the following data on cost of the different departments of city government:

	Public Safety
1917	$48,880.71
1921	$9,766.67
1926	$190,447.67
1931	$232,501.29
	Highways and Public Improvements
1917	$90,295.72
1921	$77,315.77
1926	$150,387.15
1931	$169,840.61
	Parks, Buildings
1917	$16,504.49
1921	$25,216.52
1926	$32,503.94
1931	$66,371.61
	Public Affairs
1917	$51,123.84
1921	$65,303.26
1926	$85,974.92
1931	$100,669.50
	Accounts and Finance
1917	$9,813.94
1921	$19,363.82
1926	$17,908.23
1931	$27,164.02

Total Costs

1917	$216,618.70
1921	$256,965.76
1926	$477,221.91
1931	$596,547.03

From 1922 to 1928 bonds issued total, as of January 4, 1932—$950,000. Carrying charge of two mills, sinking fund and interest, $114,738.

The city is now confronted with the necessity of additional issue of $50,000 to pay cost of improvements made in the last few years, where liens filed cannot at present be collected.

School Indebtedness

The total bonded indebtedness of the City of New Castle school district is $2,235,000.

The way the school indebtedness is increasing is shown as follows:

1916	$237,501.20
1921	$79,130.33
1926	$25,150.38
1931	$93,735.32

Total valuation, taxable property as shown by the assessment in the City of New Castle, $57,369,000.

Tax Levies

Tax levies for 1932 were as follows: City tax 11 mills; school tax 16 mills; county tax 6 1/2 mills; poor tax, 3 1/2 mills.

Graduating Class To Present Play

Cast Is Selected For Annual Production Of Senior High Graduates

The January graduating class at the Senior High school has scheduled the first event of its commencement season for Thursday evening, December 8. At that time nine hand-picked seniors will appear in the class play, "Hay Fever", a three-act comedy by Noel Coward. Miss Clara Hartsuff and her class of seniors in dramatics have been at work on this play for some time but the title has only just been announced.

"Hay Fever" has not one sneeze from beginning to end, but the audience will furnish laughs a-plenty. It was first produced in 1925 in London at the Ambassador Theatre; then, later, the same year at the Maxine Elliott Theatre in New York. The plot is written around a family of four; a retired actress, who meditates a return to the glamour of stage life; her husband, who is engaged in writing another novel in his succession of "best-sellers"; her daughter, who is about to rival her mother's career on the stage; and a son, a gifted cartoonist. With such a group of temperamental artists living under one roof, complications are inevitable. And the artistic temperament proves to be as inopportune in its manifestations as the typical case of "Hay Fever".

After anyone who sees this play has rocked with amusement at the absurdities of four geniuses caught in the toils of family-life, he will thank heaven that his own family nourishes no genius in its midst.

Positively guaranteed to produce an outstanding performance in the annals of our local high school theatricals is the following cast: Judith Bliss—Harriet Kline; David Bliss—Charles Perelman; Sorel Bliss—Gretchen Smith; Simon Bliss—Albert Perelman; Myra Arundel—Mary Lou Burkhardt; Richard Greatham—David McBride; Jackie Coryton—Virginia Wimer; Sandy Tyrell—Robert Aiken; Clara—Gertrude Falls.

Delegations Attend Evangelistic Meeting

Handsome Paintings Are Presented Delegations From Third And Croton Churches

Two large delegations attended the evangelistic meeting Monday evening in the First Pentecostal church on Pearson street, one was the young men's class from the Third United Presbyterian church and the members were accompanied by their parents; the other delegation was from the Croton Methodist church and included Mrs. June Bernard and her choir.

The musical part of the evening's program was especially inspiring; there was special violin music by Louene Swimbler and Mrs. Bernard sang "He Loves Me So".

Each delegation was presented with a large painting of Christ in the garden, which the artist evangelist, Dr. B. T. Duncan, painted while the service was being conducted. In connection with the pictures, he gave a most rousing sermon on "Intercessory Prayer".

This evening's service promises to be interesting as the evangelist will speak on "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and his illustration will be a picture of Christ entering Jerusalem.

Thursday evening, the closing night of the campaign, both Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will give their life stories.

LAST OF FIVE FAIRS IN CRAWFORD COUNTY TO BE ABANDONED

TITUSVILLE, Nov. 29.—The Titusville fair, one of the best known of county affairs in northwestern Pennsylvania, is not only now a matter of history, but it is $3,852.02 "in the red". In addition there is a mortgage of $5,000 on the property.

Interest in the fair declined to such an extent that when the last fair was held the receipts were far below the actual expenses. Administrations for four days amounted only to $2,377.50. Unpaid premiums aggregated $1,870.

The Oil Creek Agricultural Association is the last in Crawford county to "give up the ship". At one time the county had six fairs—Meadville, Cochran, Cambridge Springs, Titusville and Woodcockboro.

LANTERN LECTURE IN HARMONY CHURCH

A stereopticon lecture portraying the work that is being carried on in one of the mission fields will be given on Wednesday evening of this week at the Harmony Baptist church on the New Castle-Ellwood City road.

This lecture is being sponsored by the "Truth Seeker's Class". There will be a devotional praise service at 7:45 immediately preceding the lecture. The lecture proper will be given at 8:00 o'clock.

Why Get Up Nights?

Make this 25c Test

Physic the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids that cause irritation burning and frequent desire. Get a 25c test box of BU-KETS, the bladder, physic, from your drug store. After four days if you are not relieved of getting up nights go back and get your money. BU-KETS, containing burch leaves, juniper oil, etc., acts pleasantly and effectively on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. If you are bothered with backache, or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Eckert's Prescription Drugs & New Castle Drug Co. say Bu-Kets is a best seller.

YOUR CAR WILL NEED ANTI-FREEZE TONIGHT EVEREADY PRESTONE

You're right—it's cold. And you need anti-freeze in the cooling-system of your car at once! In unheated garages, and out on the street, cars won't be safe tonight without an anti-freeze. You must act quickly—go to your dealer or garage-man and have him put in Eveready Prestone without delay. Why Eveready Prestone rather than something else . . . ?

BEFORE YOU BUY ANY ANTI-FREEZE, read these facts

EVEREADY PRESTONE is different from all other anti-freezes — there is nothing else like it.

In developing Eveready Prestone, the laboratories of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, keeping in mind the requirements of the U. S. Bureau of Standards for an ideal anti-freeze, have perfected a product that satisfies the following specifications:

Eveready Prestone does not boil away. So it does not require frequent renewals, nor does it leave the car unprotected when a cold snap follows warm weather.

The fumes of boil-away products may mar the finish of fine cars. Smelly fumes also make winter driving unpleasant, and inflammable mixtures increase the hazard of accidents. Eveready Prestone is non-inflammable and odorless. It will not affect your car finish. And it is thoroughly effective in preventing freezing.

Eveready Prestone circulates freely at the lowest operating temperatures. Yet it will not "creep." A heavy, viscous fluid, which is not free-flowing, is a poor cooling agent. Other substances in use may "creep" — leak from systems that are watertight, but not tight enough to hold these liquids.

Many products, because of their thickness in the concentrated form, are sold as water-diluted solutions. The cost of canning and shipping plain water is thus borne by the public. Eveready Prestone is packaged as a concentrated product, not water-diluted. It's ALL anti-freeze! You know what you are getting for your money!

NOW REDUCED IN PRICE

Eveready Prestone now comes to you at a substantial reduction in price. Today it offers the safest and most economical anti-freeze you can buy for all-winter protection.

And Eveready Prestone also brings you protection against rust and corrosion. On brass, copper, solder, aluminum and zinc, it reduces the corrosive action of the water in the cooling-system at least 75%. On cast iron, 95%.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car-manufacturers and guaranteed by National Carbon Company. Put it in — today.

NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, INC.
General Offices: New York, N. Y.

Unit of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation

● THIS POPULAR-PRICE CAR, operating in a cold-weather zone, needs only one-half gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone to protect it all winter long. Cost $2.25. No scale, no corrosion—absolute safety.

If you buy a water-diluted anti-freeze for this car, remember that you are paying for a large amount of plain, ordinary water, as well as for anti-freeze material. The low cost per gallon, therefore, cannot be compared with the cost per gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Obviously, you will need a much greater amount of the diluted product to get the same protection.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, there must be one-half gallon in the cooling-system every time the thermometer drops to 20° F. Cost (?) . . . it depends on the number of cold snaps. Meanwhile, frequent renewals, checking, trouble and bother.

● THIS MEDIUM-SIZE CAR, in an average-weather zone, needs only one gallon of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Cost $4.45. All-winter protection against freezing, rust, clogging and corrosion.

The cost of enough water-diluted anti-freeze to give this car the same protection cannot be computed unless you know how much anti-freeze and how much water there is in the product you buy. Some brands contain as much as 55% plain water. Low cost per gallon, therefore, means nothing.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, the cost per season may be a great deal more than the cost of Eveready Prestone. Meanwhile, no certain, sure protection through all weather changes. No protection against rust and corrosion.

● THIS LARGE CAR, operating in a zero-weather zone, needs only two gallons of concentrated Eveready Prestone. Cost $8.90. Complete peace of mind for the owner of a valuable car.

You can buy a water-diluted anti-freeze at a lower cost per gallon, but you will have to buy much more than two gallons to get the same protection. How much more will depend on the amount of water in the product. Therefore, the cost per gallon of such anti-freeze means nothing.

If boil-away anti-freeze is used, two full gallons must be present every time the temperature drops to zero. The cost may easily exceed the cost of Eveready Prestone. Meanwhile, no certain protection against freezing—none at all against corrosion.

Rear Admiral Byrd Replies

Makes Reply To National Commander Of American Legion

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd asserted in a reply to a statement made in Richmond, Va., by Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, that if he was a "stalking horse" as charged by the Legion commander, "then I am stalking for the suffering hordes of the unemployed of this country."

Johnson had spoken of Admiral Byrd as "unwittingly and unintentionally" the "stalking horse" for the one person out of 3,000 of our population who is against the veterans of America.

been making around the country. This stalking horse statement is a grand and wonderful compliment."

In replying to Johnson's statement concerning the National Economy League, Admiral Byrd said: "The people of this country must combine, as in war, to cut the cost of government."

Gerald Morrison On Visit In City

is Now Located At The Naval Hospital In Philadelphia

Gerald C. Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Morrison of Oakwood avenue, who enlisted for service as a hospital apprentice second class in the navy through the local recruiting office on November 11, 1931, has arrived home on his first leave of twenty days, which he will spend with his parents.

He has been located at the naval hospital in Philadelphia since graduating as honor man from the Naval Training School at Norfolk, Va. While his present rating is still that of hospital apprentice second class, he will be in line for a rating of Pharmacist's mate Third Class in the near future. He enjoys life in the navy very much.

NEW TRIAL ASKED IN DAMAGE CASE

Motion for a new trial was filed by plaintiff at court Monday in the case of Mrs. Mattie H. Ridgeway of Beaver Falls against Miss Edna Gaschke of Enon. The case grew out of an automobile accident near Enon. At the trial last week a verdict was rendered in favor of the defendant, which means that the defendant was not obliged to pay the damages claimed by the plaintiff. The plaintiff believes that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence and asks for a new trial. The evidence showed that the cars were going in opposite directions when they sideswiped.

COAL PERMITS CEASE ON JANUARY 1

County Commissioner, P. O. Elder announced this morning that the verdict would be given to dig coal in the field east of town, after January 1. It is expected that by the first of the year, all the available coal will have been mined. Considerable difficulty is now being experienced on account of water, and it will not pay to have the water pumped out.

Hunting Party Leaves Tuesday

Woman In The Party Hopes To Bring Down A Deer While Away

A hunting party of Union township residents left today for Cameron county, where the entire group plans to stay for a week hunting deer. In the group are Walter L. Reneker, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hay and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cane. In addition to the men, Mrs. R. M. Hay will also try her luck as a big game hunter for the first time. She has the required hunting license and equipment and is an experienced hunter as far as small game is concerned, being a very successful rabbit hunter.

New Castle High Football Team Is Given Fine Dinner

Tom Boyle, Manager Of The Castleton, Host At Excellent Dinner

Forty-two Present Monday Evening; Coach Bridenbaugh Makes Speech

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team scored another decisive victory last evening. It was a night game, or a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Castleton, to be more specific, and when the "Hurricane" and a few invited guests got through with that turkey, there wasn't much doubt about the championship.

The dinner was given the New Castle High team and coaches by Tom Boyle, manager of the Castleton, and we can truthfully say that a finer dinner was never served in New Castle's beautiful hotel. It was just an act of public spirit on the part of Mr. Boyle that prompted the dinner, and we must say that Mr. Boyle knows his food, and it was done to the turn. Mr. Turkey wasn't long for this world once he was let loose in that banquet hall. He never had a chance.

Tom Boyle Real Host

Those big husky New Castle High boys can punish turkeys just like they do opposing lines and backfields. It was a turkey dinner fit for a king, or champions, and that is just what this "Red Hurricane" is this year, truly great champions. To say that Mr. Boyle and the Castleton hotel were thanked, would be putting it mildly.

Manager Tom Boyle, made himself popular with the football boys by saying a few words, congratulating them on their fine record and promising another dinner next year if circumstances permit.

Principal Frank L. Orth of Senior High School was toastmaster of the evening and filled the bill to perfection, injecting just enough humor into his introductions to put the gridders in a good humor.

Captain Mike DeCarbo was called upon and made a brief speech thanking the team for their cooperation this year, and the following members of the "Red Hurricane" responded with short talks: Manager McBride, Johnny Uram, Tommy Rambo, Walter Kominic, Fred Shello, Alex Shello, Alex Shello, James, Fred Shello, Alex Shello, Charles "Whitney" Nickum, Freddy Lane, Rocco Tomalello, Sorto, Ridley, Hitchen, Raskowski, Kneram, Palkovitch, Pascarella, Gianni, Smith, Emerick, Lindsey, Workman, Humphrey, Howley, Jones, Butz, Capitola, Hileman, Charles "Bugs" Walther, of The News.

Decision Explained

Assistant Coaches William "Bill" Klee and George "Gig" Thomas both made fine talks on the past season, and congratulated the boys. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner spoke highly of this year's team and expressed his regrets at having to share the title, and "it was not through any fault of mine, you can bet that" said the popular faculty manager with tears in his eyes, and Gardner really feels very keenly the unjust criticism that has been cast his way since the announcing of the three-way decision in the Class AA conference last Saturday.

Gardner explained the decision to the boys last night as follows: "The Decisions committee by telephone ruled McKeesport winner over New Kensington, thus making them undefeated for the season. That made three champions, New Castle, Jeannette and McKeesport. The W. P. I. A. L. rules forbid more than one post season game, there was no other course for us to take than to make a triple award."

Gardner continued "New Castle and Jeannette wanted very much to play off for the title, but McKeesport was not very keen for a game."

Charles "Bugs" Walther, scholastic sports editor of The News was called upon for a few brief remarks.

Coach Bridenbaugh Speaks

Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh was the final speaker of the evening. He started his speech in the customary Bridenbaugh fashion by saying "I'm sorry we're through with football for this year. Coaching this team has been a great pleasure to me. I have enjoyed every minute of it. The 1932 group of Senior High football men were the finest that I have ever coached. And "Bridy" was very emphatic with this statement.

Bridenbaugh continued "We made the greatest record this year of any team that I have ever coached. New Castle High had the toughest schedule in the history of the school. The

Baseball Teams Talking Trades

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—At least three National League clubs today are angling for a shortstop, though until recently each had a recognizer stop for the post.

Charley Gelbert of the Cardinals shot his foot instead of a rabbit the other day and may be unavailable next season. Travis Jackson, of the Giants has a trick knee, and Glenn Wright of Brooklyn has been a rather fragile gent for two years.

As a result, Tommy Thoenow, listed by Pittsburgh as trading material, is likely to be much in demand when the trade winds blow at the annual major league meetings here two weeks hence. Hero of the 1926 world series, and then thrust into obscurity by injuries sustained in an automobile accident, Thoenow subsequently made a comeback with Fred Vaughan on deck, Pittsburgh doesn't need him.

Meine May Go

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 29—Pittsburgh's "hot stove league" speculated today on just what was up Pirate manager George Gibson's sleeve.

Gibson frankly admitted he has been dicker for the last week or more to bring a "seasoned major league star" to the Forbes field diamond for the 1933 national league.

Auburn, in his opinion, is not to be considered seriously since there have been so many Southern teams here in recent years.

New Castle High Floor Team Will Start This Week

Bridenbaugh Will Call First Practice For Latter Part Of Week

New Castle High School basketball team will start practice sometime this week, the date is not definitely known, according to Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh today. Last year New Castle won the Section Three title, but it is a far cry this year to that ultimate goal.

Two of the stars from the 1931-32 team Captain Nickie Uram and Andy Lasky will be missing when the call is issued for the red and black floormen. Ed Marvin is another who will be missed, as will Ostrosky, and Nocera.

Left from the last year's championship team will be Johnny Uram, Captain "Bus" Reiber and Tepica, from of the varsity team, and Ron Thomas, Walter Kominic, McElwaine and Battle from the reserves.

For the first few weeks the New Castle High team will use Senior High floor for their practices. The games will be played again this year at George Washington High floor.

The biggest job that confronts Coach Bridenbaugh is the making of a center. Andy Lasky will be hard to replace. The center position is one of the most important on the team, and for that reason "Bridy" is anxious to fill the spot with a capable man.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is working hard to fill up the pre-season program for the Red and Black passers. The regular Section Three card will open in January.

Dick Thomas Is Leading Scorer On Grovers Team

GROVE CITY, Nov. 29—The Grove City College football season ending last week with a victory over Thiel, fell short of the usual success attained by Crimston teams in the past decade, and for the first time in years, defeats exceeded the victories. The Grovers played nine games, six at home and three abroad, winning three, losing five, though until recently each had a recognizer stop for the post.

Lack of adequate substitute material, coupled with injuries to important cogs in the Grover machine, deprived the Amos eleven of victories in several games. Much of the team's punch was lost when Walter Baylor, the only experienced fullback on the squad, was kept out of action during most of the campaign with a severe Charley horse. This factor was largely responsible for the failure of the Crimston to score in five games, although the team made consistent gains between the 20-yard lines in nearly every game.

This lack of scoring punch resulted in the opposition tallying 88 points to 60 for the Grovers in the nine-game campaign. Duquesne rolled up 26 points against the Crimston, Geneva adding 20, St. Vincent 19, Waynesburg 10, Westminster 7 and Thiel 6. The Grovers scored 26 points against Bethany, 14 against Thiel, 13 against Glenville and 7 against St. Vincent.

Dick Thomas, quarterback of New Castle, led the Crimston scoring, registering two touchdowns in the final game, to a score made in the Bethany game for a total of 18 points. Gross, midline halfback, tallied twice against Glenville to take second place with 12 points, while Oriss, Beres, Koma and Smith each tallied once. Saul McCoy kicked six placements for extra points, out of nine attempts.

Davis Walsh Picks Southern California To Hand Defeat To Notre Dame

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 29—Now that agreement is general that Notre Dame was a great football team on Saturday November 26, I see no particular point in waiting ten days in order to arrive at the general conclusion that it will be great enough to win from Southern California on Saturday, December 10. In fact, I see no point in arriving at that conclusion at all, it being my bounden belief that, on December 10 or any day convenient to both, Southern California will be great enough to win from Notre Dame or come so close that they won't know the difference before the following Friday a week.

At 3:30 by the clock on Saturday last, the man would have been a chump who didn't, there and then, pick Notre Dame to beat the world. It had everything, it was pretty close to perfection on leather cleats. But that was then and this is now and, in the line of further disclosures, I don't hesitate to say that I have nothing against perfection. I understand there are even those who speak very well of it.

Too Good To Last

There's only one thing against it, in fact, it's too good. It can't last; it can't get better, so it must get worse. In fewer words, the fine fervor that Notre Dame knew last Saturday came once in a life time and cannot be reclaimed. Fordham had it for a few hours against St. Mary's and never was the same again. Pitt had it against Notre Dame. Notre Dame had it against the Army, the Army against Harvard. There simply is no permanency in the thing.

Deer Season To Start Thursday

Hunters Advised To Wear Red While In The Woods

Hunters will start departing today for the deer country but before they go they should not fail to make arrangements to wear red. In fact the game commission has advised hunters to "cover that khaki suit, back and front, with red cloth." It is anticipated 200,000 will hunt deer this season. The season starts Thursday, December 1.

Young Pro From Michigan Takes Lead Over Big Field With 144 Total

(International News Service)

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Nov. 29—The $10,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament, went into its third round today with John Revolta, 21-year-old professional of Menominee, Mich., setting the pace.

The young Michigan pro, competing in his first major tournament, captured the leadership yesterday when he covered the second 18-hole round in a sparkling 71 which, added to his 73 of Sunday's opening round, gave him a score of 144.

Second place at the halfway point in this year's richest golf meet in the nation was shared by Johnny Farrell of New York and Al Espinosa of Akron, O., each with cards of 145.

The defending titlist, Gene Sarazen, American and British open champion, was well behind the leaders, having scored a 73 yesterday to register a halftime total of 150.

Four More Young Gridders Chosen For Charity Game

Sutherland Picks Colehowe And Yablonski From University Of Penn Team

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Nov. 29.—Four more college gridiron stars were selected Monday to participate in the North-South All-Star football game for charity here December 10.

Those accepting invitations today were Howard Colehowe, star tackle of the University of Pennsylvania, and his team mate Frank Yablonski, who plays at a guard post. Both will perform for the northern team, under the direction of Jack Sutherland of Pitt. Lester Corzone, Davis Ekins fullback and Al Woods Maryland halfback were added to the southern squad which will be coached by Dick Harlow football mentor of Western Maryland.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Major league magnates will convene two weeks from today in New York City and among the subjects to be discussed will be whether or not to allow broadcasting of baseball games next season. It is reported that a majority of the magnates are opposed to the broadcasting.

A fifteen round match for the featherweight championship of the world will be the feature attraction of the annual Christmas fund boxing show, at Madison Square garden, New York, December 9. Kid Chocolate, now generally recognized as the leader of the class will meet Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles who decisively won from Tommy Paul after the latter had won the N. B. A. title.

L. C. Kells and W. R. Summers who have been umpiring in the international league will arbitrate in the American league next season according to reports from Chicago. President William Harridge of the American league has stated that both have been signed. If their services are not satisfactory they can be returned to the international league.

Dr. A. A. Allen, Cornell university told the American game conference, held in New York yesterday that progress in breeding grouse has been so rapid within the past two years "that within a few years grouse farms will be as common as quail farms today." He said that at the Ithaca station of the New York conservation department he had raised to maturity 81 percent of grouse eggs set, and that second generation birds have been raised.

Cincinnati Reds will be allowed to play golf if they feel they must, according to Donnie Bush, newly elected manager of the National league team. However, they must play it in such a way as to not interfere with their baseball playing. In regard to players, he said he would not trade Babe Herman unless he can get somebody as good or better and that George Grantham would play first base. He believes Joe Morrissey will be able to take care of second base but he is uncertain about third base. Probabilities are that Wally Gilbert and Andy High will be traded for a hot corner man.

The U. S. completed its tennis series with All-Australia to record a 9-1 triumph at Brisbane. The only Australian victory was that of Vivian McGrath over Keith Gledhill. Ellsworth Vines, Jr. defeated H. O. Hopman, 7-5, 9-11, 6-3, paired with Gledhill to win a doubles encounter from Hopman and McGrath, 6-7, 9-7, 6-3 and John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison defeated E. F. Moon and Cliff Sproule, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 in the final doubles match. McGrath who is only 16 years old won from Gledhill 6-2, 8-6.

Villanova Banishes Sport Scholarships

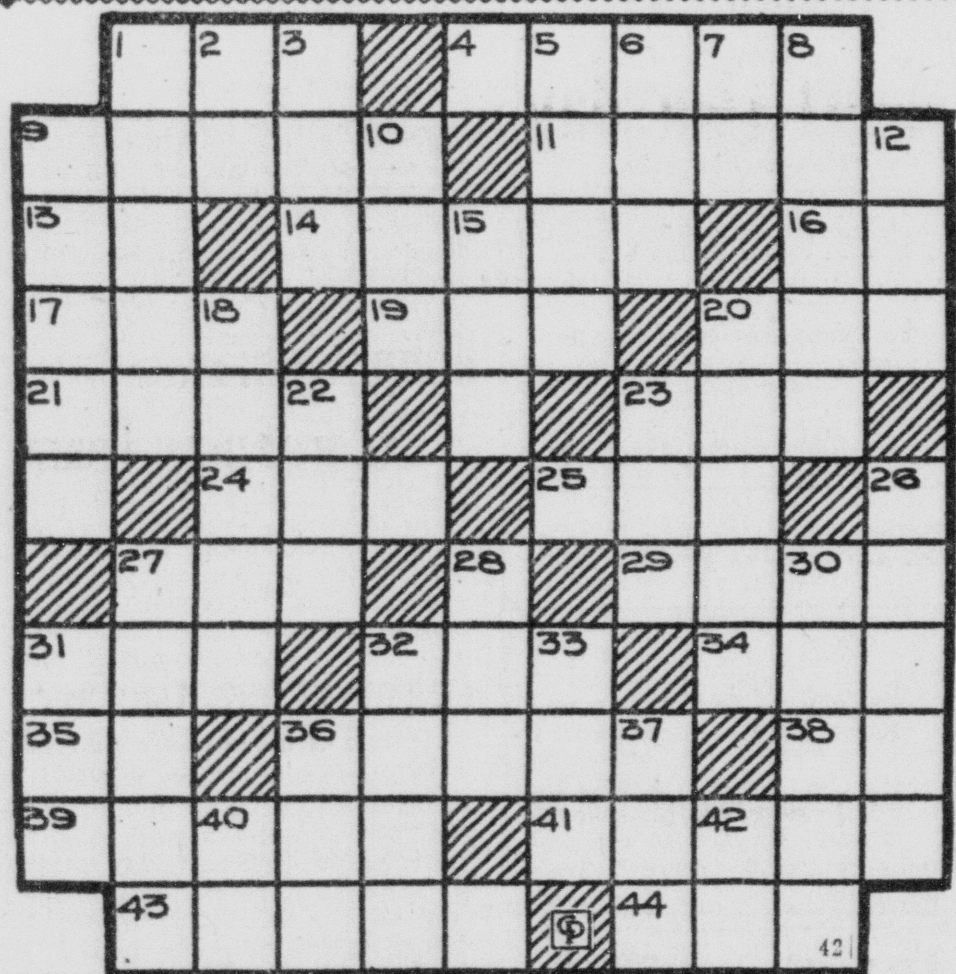

President Of Villanova Against Dropping Scholarships, But Joins Rest

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—Admitted that he was merely following the lead of the Middle Atlantic intercollegiate association in barring "athletic scholarships" next year, the Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of Villanova college, told the International News Service today that he saw little against these scholarships and much in their favor.

"We have several boys on our teams who, without athletic scholarships, would be unable to obtain a college education," he said. "They are good students. They behave themselves. They are a credit to themselves and the school. As far as we are concerned, the system has worked out admirably and I, for one, am in favor of giving every boy an education by every means at our disposal."

Villanova is soon to launch an intra-mural movement, on the basis of "sports for all."

Stock Market In Good Performance

Number Of Issues Show Gains In Early Morning Trading

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The stock market today gave its second firm performance in the face of a fresh break in Sterling to new historic low levels. Stocks worked higher after an irregular opening and by the end of the first hour a number of issues were up a point and more over the previous close.

The slump in Sterling carried the French franc along and the latter sold at a new low for the year. The better action of the stock market was accompanied by improvement in bonds. Commodities likewise showed more resistance. Wheat was down slightly while Cotton worked a few points higher.

The market's improvement was led by issues such as American Telephone, Allied Chemical and American Can. U. S. Steel did little, held back by heaviness in the preferred. Copper stocks were weak in the face of the opening of the new curtailment conference, the group being unsettled by a break in prices in the London metal market.

Farm, implement and mail order shares ignored lower grain prices. Rallying tendencies in the rails were led by Union Pacific, Atchison and Lackawanna.

Martin Bible Class Assembles Monday

Pay Tribute To One Of Ellwood's Foremost Citizens Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—Members of the C. A. Martin Bible class of the First Presbyterian church assembled at the home of Mrs. Lewis Nickum on Wayne avenue last night for their regular meeting. Mrs. George B. Wilson was associate hostess on the occasion.

A fine comfort was completed at this time by those present. This will be given to some needy family in the community. An interesting program was then given. A clever playlet in which all participated featured. Music was provided throughout the entire evening.

At their business meeting the class formulated plans for a Christmas party to be held on December 19. A committee composed of Mrs. Thomas Haines, Mrs. W. C. Martin and Mrs. Greenwood was appointed to complete arrangements.

The class at this time desiring to offer a tribute of love and respect to the memory of their teacher, C. A. Martin, passed several resolutions to this effect. They voted to send these to his widow, Mrs. Bessie Martin.

A delightful social hour, followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon, concluded the events of the evening. The next meeting will be held in one month.

Hold Last Rites For David H. Cunningham

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—The last rites for David Henderson Cunningham, aged 67, father of Councilman H. Dewey Cunningham of this city were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 from the Bell Memorial church on Line avenue.

The deceased died at the local hospital Friday evening after a week's battle with pneumonia. Rev. J. A. King, pastor of the Bell Memorial church was assisted in the services by Dr. Charles Z. Bell and Rev. Cobb, the latter of the Harmony Baptist church. The numerous floral tributes only went to show the high regard the deceased is held by his fellow townsmen.

There were many out of town mourners who were present to pay their last respects. The church was filled to capacity. Burial took place in the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church. Pallbearers were the life long friends of the deceased. They were T. C. Marshall, William Cole, G. W. Nagel, A. E. McMahon, Frank Iseman and W. B. Scott.

The highlights of the evening was the serving of a fine dinner at one table by the hostess and Miss Thompson. The remaining hours were whiled away around two tables of bridge.

Intermediates Hold Enjoyable Social

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—A fine social was enjoyed by the intermediates of the U. P. church last night in the church basement. Twenty-one members participated in the activities of the evening. The games, contests and general social time were in charge of Frank Gross and Miss Beryl Boots. Refreshments were served following the entertainment. The committee in charge of general arrangements was composed of Miss Gertrude Jones, Miss Eleanor Wilson and Miss Glenna Mae Lowry.

Approve Card System By Committees Here

C. F. McClaren Explains System Of Bookkeeping At Meeting Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—A card system of bookkeeping as far as tax collection for the Ellwood City school board and borough council is concerned is virtually installed. This system was approved by the finance committees of the board and council at a meeting held in the Lincoln high school last night. The committees will recommend it to their respective bodies.

A change in the system was necessary because of the adoption of the installment plan of tax collection here. Mr. McClaren has been instructed to complete details for the installation of the new system.

E. B. Moyer, borough secretary, is the new tax collector who has just finished his quarters in the borough building. Quite a rush is anticipated here today and tomorrow by people who are anxious to escape the five per cent penalty which will be added after December 1.

Given Surprise On Her Birthday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—In honor of the sixteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Ora Falen, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Falen entertained a circle of friends at their home at Wurttemberg last evening. Although taken by surprise she entertained her guests in a pleasing manner.

The hours passed quickly with many guessing games and contests and at a seasonable time delicious refreshments were served by Misses Irene and Maize Falen. A feature of the refreshment period was a pretty adorned birthday cake. The honor guest was the recipient of many lovely gifts as remembrances from her friends.

Enjoying the evening were Amy Ketter, Virginia Hartzell, Fanchion Kierker, Jean Wimer, Anna Atkinson, Irene, Maize and Thelma Falen, Lorain Kierker, Andy and Lee Galaher and John Falen.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—Dispersing delightful hospitality Miss Betty Sowry entertained the members of her club at her home on Lawrence avenue last evening. Miss Lorena Thompson was a special guest on the occasion.

The highlights of the evening was the serving of a fine dinner at one table by the hostess and Miss Thompson. The remaining hours were whiled away around two tables of bridge.

The club will meet again in two weeks at a place to be determined later.

LOCAL MAN SPRAINS ANKLE YESTERDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—H. M. Cresswell of Glen avenue, chairman of the finance committee of the board of education had the misfortune to sprain his ankle while walking up Lawrence avenue yesterday. He was taken to his home where he was required to rest for a period, by a physician.

WINTERS-KREIGISH WEDDING

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—An announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Winters, daughter of Mrs. W. R. Moore of Wiley Hill to Albert Kreigh, also of Wiley Hill. The wedding ceremony was performed Friday morning at the parsonage of the Harmony Baptist church with Rev. S. L. Cobb, the pastor officiating. The only attendants were the bride's mother, Mrs. Moore and her uncle William Hollenbeck.

Immediately following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moore at Wiley with only members of the immediate families participating.

In the evening a large circle of friends and neighbors gathered at the Moore home and tendered the happy couple a serenade to which Mr. and Mrs. Kreigh responded in a pleasing manner generously treating their guests.

For the present they will reside at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Moore, at Wiley Hill.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rapp of Knox have been called to Zelenople by the death of the former's father, L. E. Rapp of that place.

Mrs. Edward McBride, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Grove City hospital, has recovered sufficiently to be brought to her home at Rockdale.

Harry White, John Bowers and Frank Wimer, all of the New Castle road, have returned home after visiting with friends at Tionesta.

Herron Kirk and James Smith of Pleasant Hill left this morning by motor for Buffalo, N. Y., where they will spend several days as the guests of friends.

Mrs. Walter Blinn is confined to her home on the Beaver Falls road suffering from an attack of asthma. Harry Yoho, Frank Coyalt, Lewis Yoho, William Walton, John Service and Glenn Yoho, all of the Mt. Hope district, left this morning by motor for Coedonia, Cameron county, where they will spend two weeks hunting deer.

The landslide at least served to let the depression know what people think of it.

Ellwood Sends Big Delegation To New Castle Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—Ellwood City was well represented at the banquet for the National Commander of the American Legion, Louis A. Johnson, at the Cathedral last night. Nearly 100 members of the local J. Wilbur Randolph Post, including the Bugle and Drum Corps participated in the events of the evening. The latter was on the program and was given an opportunity to demonstrate how they had won numerous prizes for their ability. Local legionnaires were well pleased and enthused with the address rendered by the national commander.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Barnes

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—Funeral rites for Mrs. Hanna Barnes, widow of the late John Barnes, whose death occurred Saturday evening following a very brief illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence White of Wurttemberg, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the White home. Rev. J. E. Caughy, pastor of the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church of which she was a member, was in charge of the services, which were largely attended.

She was one of the most highly esteemed residents of this vicinity and her death brought sorrow to her many friends. Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the affection of which she was held by those who knew her. She is survived by five daughters, two sons and a number of grand and great-grandchildren.

Interment was made in the Camp Run cemetery with Wilbert Lersch, Vaughn Whybrew, James Devore, James Hazen, W. D. Majors and William Jordan as pallbearers.

Miss Blanche Porter Is Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 29.—With delightful hospitality Miss Blanche Porter received the members of the Betty Co-Ed Club at her home on Lawrence avenue last night for their regular meeting. Brides at two tables and dancing occupied the attention of the guests for the greater portion of the evening. Miss Marie Yeomans and Miss Fern Belles were found to be the winners of the high score awards at the conclusion of the games.

An added feature was the serving of a luncheon by the hostess. The club will meet again in two weeks at a place to be later determined.

Like Dad—Like Son

Vivian de Valera, eldest son of President Eamonn de Valera of the Irish Free State, who may soon be to tread in his father's footsteps. In the event of the government holding a by-election in the Waterford and East Cork district, young de Valera will be the candidate for his father's party.

Student of the Road

A rolling stone may garner no moss but a traveler can surely acquire lots of knowledge. Take the case of Hulene Abernethie (above), who has just graduated from the Amarillo, Texas, High School, she attended 100 different schools in 17 states before winding up at Amarillo High. Her dad is a traveling man, and Hulene has always accompanied him.

CHEWTON

CHURCH NOTES

Announcements are made by the pastor of the Chewton Christian church, Rev. Chas. P. Durbin, of activities in the church this week. The Relief committee of the community will meet in the basement of the church Tuesday and Friday morning at 9 o'clock for all day sewing on garments for Red Cross aid. There has been a good turnout of the ladies of the community at these meetings and about 125 garments have been made. The ladies take their dinners and spend the day in this worthy cause. There are eight sewing machines in service.

The mid-week prayer meeting service will be held in the church Wednesday evening at 7:30. J. C. Yoho is leader. After prayer meeting the young people of the church will meet with their minister to plan winter activities and Y. P. S. C. E. work.

The Ladies' Aid will hold all day meeting on Thursday. There is a lot of work to be done on Christmas quilts and a good turnout will be present. Luncheon at the church at noon.

The Ladies' class of the Bible school will have charge of the church program next Sunday evening at 7:30.

CLASS MEETING HELD
Mrs. William J. Summers proved herself a very charming and pleasing hostess, when she entertained the members of the Loyal Ladies' Sunday School class in the basement of the church Friday evening. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out, both in the decoration and the menu.

The business meeting of the class was held at 8 p. m. and then a program of entertainment which had been arranged by Mrs. Summers was next and was very much enjoyed by all. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Musical by orchestra.
Introductory address—Mrs. Summers.
Song—"When You and I Were Young Maggie"—by Maggie and Jiggs—(Mrs. Cleo Guy and Mrs. Chas. Brown).

Reading—Mrs. Ruby Baker.
Play—"No Trains for the South".
Music by orchestra.

Song—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia"—by Leona and Blanch Lutz (Pianists).

Several games and contests were arranged with a prize given to each winner.

At the close of the entertainment Mrs. Summers invited the guests to the dining room of the church where an oyster supper was served. The table was very beautifully decorated with yellow and white "naum". Favors were presented to each class member.

The class will be entertained for the December class meeting at the home of Mrs. Lillian Rhinehardt when she and Mrs. Cleo Guy will be associate hostesses to the class.

Isaly Store To Open Wednesday

W. W. Howe, Whose Store Was Burned Out In April, Reopens At Old Location

With the most modern and complete equipment suitable for his business, installed and in place, Isaly's Dairy store, W. W. Howe, proprietor, will open for business Wednesday morning, at the corner of Mill and Washington streets.

Mr. Howe's business was destroyed when fire completely gutted the old Woods building on the night of April 12 and he has been looking forward to the completion of the new building in order to re-open at the old location.

The most modern electric refrigeration has been installed which has been built particularly to fit the needs of the store. Mr. Howe will carry a full line of dairy products, vegetables, and which in addition will serve light lunches.

The interior of the store will be a revelation to former patrons, as everything in it has been constructed with the idea of rendering the most complete service for the space available, and in addition, be pleasing to the eye.

On the opening day, Mr. Howe plans to give ice cream cones free to his juvenile patrons and butter milk to the adults.

The show cases, which are refrigerated, enable a full display of products in an unique and pleasing manner.

The finishing touches are now being placed on the storeroom which will be ready for the opening to the public on Wednesday morning.

Pennsylvania Railroad Seeks To Keep Workers 'On Job' Thru Winter

With the approach of winter and its usual accompaniment of lowered vitality and increased illness, the Pennsylvania railroad is making a special effort to interest its employees in the maintenance of good health and in the building up of resistance to the peculiar physical perils of cold weather.

The railroad is urging its men to avail themselves of the physical examinations conducted by the company's medical staff to eliminate or prevent those conditions which bring about sickness, suffering and consequent loss of time, money and efficiency.

A special feature of the medical service to employees is the injection of serum to prevent common colds, grip and influenza infections. Examination for all classes of employees whose duties have to do with train movements is obligatory, but on the part of other workers it is only voluntary. However, officials are anxious that all employees form the examination habit.

Charges Denied Of Racketeering On Scholarships

Governor Pinchot Has No Comment To Offer On Charges, Dr. Rule Indignant

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 29.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot Monday said he had "no comment" to make on reports in Pittsburgh that senatorial scholarships had fallen into the hands of racketeers and were being sold prospective students.

Dr. James N. Rule, state superintendent of public instruction, said his department had "nothing to do" with the awarding of senatorial scholarships.

Dr. Rule explained the scholarships are awarded by the various boards of trustees of educational institutions and are given to state senators for distribution.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Looked like happy days were here again, up at the Cathedral last night. Any time you can gather eleven hundred people together for eats, speaks and dance, you've done something and the Legion did this. And a real party it was.

Looked like a flash back in part, to the days of fifteen years ago, what with khaki uniforms sprinkled here and there, the only difference being that the lads in khaki last night were in rompers when the Legion lads were in khaki.

An to the khaki was added scarlet coats and blue trousers, silver hats and over seas caps in colors, a kaleidoscope that looked like a moving section of the rainbow. There was this exception about the drum corps fellows who were garbed in gay uniforms. Some of their chests have slipped down since the first Armistice Day.

Fifteen years adds a bulge to your waistline and takes some of your hair. Few of them could get into the uniforms they were discharged in, although those drummers certainly shouldn't put on weight from the amount of exercise they indulge in.

One of those bass drummers in the Ellwood City corps certainly whangs a mean drum. Last night's commander's banquet will be remembered for the quality of the bugle and drum corps playing, among other things.

The lad who gets the real exercise however is the drum major, who wields a baton about the size of a hickory sapling. Takes his exercise by the numbers, one, two, three, four, and the job must take the wrist of a lumberjack and the rhythm of a ballet dancer.

Serving all that crowd with rosbif was a neat bit of work, if you ask us. The service was fast, and the helpings on the plates in our section looked like the helping given to a hungry stevedore.

Practically every town from Pittsburgh to Erie was included in the guests, with a fair sprinkling from Ohio. Geographically it was the best National Commanders' banquet ever held.

Tonight promises something a bit out of the ordinary. Stanley Hausner, the intrepid Polish flyer who dropped into the ocean on his way from New York to Warsaw will be here and what a tale he must have after parking in the ocean eight days, with the whales and sharks for playmates, seems to me a fellow wouldn't care if he never saw it again for eighty or ninety years.

If the deer of Elk county read this column, they must take a tip. Flip McConahy, Hughes Bartlett and Max Ludwig are leaving for Elk county today or tonight, all set to knock over any deer that gets within shooting range.

All of which brings to mind the fact that there are deer in the Slippery Rock Valley now. Not many, but if they were left alone for a couple of years they might invite enough of their friends so that it would be worth while later on.

Just Folks By EDGAR A. GUEST

MAN AND DOG

My dog is very smart. He knows my step upon the walk. A certain interest he shows when I begin to talk. And it is plain he understands The catalog of my commands. He'll go and come to suit my whim And I am very proud of him.

A clever terrier is he. True courtesy he shows To friends who come to visit me. As if their names he knows; And he will try to bark away When I begin to talk. The stranger, calling night or day, Intelligent? There's not a doubt That dog knows just what he's about.

But should another dog come by And undertake to share The over-generous meals which I For him each day prepare: At once a fearful fight would start. My dog is not so kind of heart. That he would sympathetic be With dogs less fortunate than he.

And thus since roads are often rough And winds blow cold, we find That being clever's not enough. Man also must be kind.

A dog may be both wise and cute But to the end he's just a brute While man, however wise he be, Must prove his worth with sympathy. (Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest)

Governor Conley Of West Virginia Burned By Blast

Governor Suffers Severe Body And Face Burns When Gas Explodes In Home

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Governor William G. Conley of West Virginia, suffered severe burns about the face and body late Friday night when an accumulation of gas exploded as he attempted to ignite the furnace in the basement of the gubernatorial mansion here, it was learned today.

Some apprehension was expressed at the governor's office today over the executive's eyesight. It was feared that his eyes may have been impaired by the explosion. Attached said the governor was "scorched" over his entire face and body. Physicians said the governor would be confined to his home for several weeks.
